Assemblyman Frank Weller Receives Recognition In State Legislature

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southland News Service
Special to The Evening News.
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 6.—With administration forces in command, selection of committees, particularly in Assembly, by Speaker Frank Merriam, began today. Glendale's assemblyman, Frank C. Weller, is already in line for an important committee chairmanship, perhaps the judiciary.

To Weller of Glendale goes the credit of making the first oration in the California Legislature's thirty-sixth session shortly after being called to order.

Robert McPherson of Vallejo dominated Frank E. Merriam and Torrey Weller followed with a row of words in seconding the nomination that revealed his fornicious ability.

The glowing tribute, perhaps, had something to do with Merriam's victory over Isaac Jones, another Southern Californian, who hails from Ontario and was voted forth at the last minute to satisfy T. M. Wright, author of the Wright dry act, and Miss Eleanor Miller, Pasadena assemblywoman, both of whom refused to vote for Attorney Albert Rosenline of San Francisco.

Tribute to Ability
Among other things, the Glendale solon said:

"I am here to tell the world that Frank Merriam is experienced."

FORD AROUSES JEWS WITH ARTICLE

Hebrew Member of Market Association Threatens Million Libel Suit

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Aaron Shapiro of Chicago, who is attending the meeting here of the National Council of Co-operative Marketing associations, announced today that he intended to file a libel suit for $1,000,000 against Henry Ford, basing the action on articles appearing in Ford's paper, The Dearborn Independent.

The article alleged, Shapiro said, that his activities in the co-operative movement were part of an attempt of a group of Jewish financiers to control American agriculture.

Shapiro said he had written a letter to Ford demanding formal retraction of The Independent's charges.

Among the "false charges" which Shapiro said had been made in Ford's paper was that he had engaged in teaching communistic principles to school children. The articles appeared, he said, from April 12 to December 13, 1924.

Banker Refuses Money, Shot Dead by Bandits

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 6.—Two holdup hands who entered the home of Lawrence Sands, president of the First National bank, after attempting to force Sands to get them $20,000, shot and killed the banker upon the latter's refusal to comply with the demand. The bandits escaped.

German Bankers Lose Out With French Deal

PARIS, Jan. 6.—The German delegation, here to negotiate a Franco-German commercial treaty, issued a statement early today to the effect that France had broken off negotiations.

Glendale Man Will Offer Child Labor Resolution At State Legislature

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 6.—Governor Richardson today has selected Senator Frank C. Weller of Glendale and Senator Harry Chamberlin to introduce the joint resolution ratifying the federal child labor amendment tomorrow, he told Mrs. Ernest Wallace, representative of the California League of Woman Voters.

Greetings to former State Senator Joe Rominger of Long Beach, who retired because paralyzed, were ordered dispatched by the Senate today at the request of Herbert Slater, blind senator from Santa Rosa.

After naming attaches the Senate and House both adjourned for a joint session tomorrow, to hear the governor's message.

Got More Money
"Back pay," totalling $12,610 was today distributed among members of the Legislature by State Controller Ray L. Riley, in compliance with an opinion by Attorney General Webb holding that the salary increase voted by the legislators at the last election became effective the day of the election.

Mrs. Sweetin Faces 35 Year Term With Smile

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 6.—Joliet's grey walls, that loomed in the offing for "thirty-five years," had no depressing effect upon Mrs. Elsie Sweetin, convicted poisoner of her husband Wilford, when she stepped in St. Louis for twenty minutes between trains today on the way to the penitentiary in custody of Sheriff Grant Holcomb of Mount Vernon. Dressed in her "Sunday best," she laughed and chatted with reporters who constituted a reception committee.

Civil War Vet Has Engraving 100 Years Old

W. G. Collins, commander of N. P. Bank post, G. A. R., who entered the Civil War forces from his native state of Illinois, when he was only 16 years old, is the proud owner of a fine engraving of George Washington, published in February, 1800, in London, England. The picture from which the engraving was made was painted in 1797 by Gabriel Stuart. The engraving was the work of James Heath, historical engraver to his Majesty, and to his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, who did his work from the original picture in the collection of the Marquis of Lansdowne.

INCREASES IN EGG PRICES POSSIBLE

Production Lower Than Last Year And Number Of Hens Falling Off

By J. C. ROYLE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Hens are going to be called upon to attend more strictly to business the coming year and even then it is probable that the ham and eggs on the American breakfast table will cost more than in 1924. Egg production did not live up to its reputation in the last year, although there were more chickens on the farms when the period started than ever before.

On the first of last January the chicken population numbered 474,000,000, an increase of 32 per cent since 1920. This trend toward enlargement of flocks was furthered by the desire of farmers to diversify their products. Owners and dealers not only counted their chickens before they were hatched but the eggs before they were laid. A record production was forecast and prices held very low since storage men were reluctant to buy, having lost money for two previous years on their holdings.

Production Low
The over supply never arrived however. The cold unfavorable spring cut down production and receipts at storage warehouses totaled only 14,175,456 cases. Moreover, holdings dropped a million and a quarter cases in the early winter as compared with 1923. Prices ran about the same as in that year, averaging 25.6 cents at the farm compared with 25.8. Premium prices however, were paid for eggs of superior

INTER-ALLIED CONFERENCE IN SIGHT

Britain Disappointed With America's Attitude on War Claims

By DAVID M. CHURCH
For International News Service.
LONDON, Jan. 6.—The British foreign office was disappointed by the refusal of the United States to allow the American war claims to be arbitrated, it was said today in diplomatic circles here.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Churchill departed today for the allied financial conference in Paris. He intimated that he did not expect the Paris conference, which opens tomorrow, to reach any concrete conclusions. He does hope, however, it was said, that out of the Paris conference will come an inter-allied conference to settle all war debt controversies.

Conference Possible
The foreign office looks to the Paris conference also to clarify the American war claims situation, it was said. Pending the result of the Paris conference there will be no British reply to the American note, it was stated.

Proposals that an allied debt conference be called in Brussels in March or April, with the United States invited to attend, have not yet received official sanction, the foreign office said.

Soviet Censors Close Bernard Shaw's Play

MOSCOW, Jan. 6.—Bernard Shaw's play "Saint Joan" has been closed at the Soviet theatre by the censor.

Widow Fights To Break Will Of Labor Boss

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—A contest over the will of the late Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was filed here today by the widow, Mrs. Gertrude Gompers, 41, who married the labor leader three years before his death. The estate is valued at $30,000.

In a bill filed before the district supreme court, Mrs. Gompers alleged that a second will executed by her husband just prior to his death, in which she was cut out with "fraud, coercion and undue influence" exercised by Samuel J. Gompers, her stepson.

SUCCESSOR TO STONE UP TO COOLIDGE

Ex-Ambassador of Mexico Pointed to as Likely New Cabinet Member

By GEORGE E. DURNO
For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—President Coolidge today was facing the task of filling the fourth vacancy that has occurred in his cabinet since he came to the White House, and, for the second time, it is the attorney-generalship.

Before him were a score of names from which to select the man who will succeed Harlan Stone, in conducting the government's legal business. Announcement of his choice probably will not be made until the Senate has acted upon Stone's nomination to the supreme bench, but that action is expected today or tomorrow.

The field of those whom the president has under serious consideration, it is said, has narrowed to five, with perhaps the leading figure that of Charles Beecher Warren of Detroit, former ambassador to Japan and Mexico, participant in the conference that resulted in recognition of Mexico, chairman of the rules committee of the Cleveland National convention and nationally prominent lawyer.

Shooting Mars Strike Of 12,000 Coal Miners

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 6.—Bloodshed marked the strike of the 12,000 miners of the Pennsylvania Coal Co. today, when Sam Pace, 31, secretary of a local union, was shot to death as he returned home here after attending a meeting of the miners' union. Residents who heard the shots rushed into the street in time to see two men running away. One was a World war veteran and one of the miners on strike in this district for more than four weeks.

Illinois Senator Named To Take Kahn's Office

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Congressman John C. McKenzie, Republican of Illinois, today was elected chairman of the House military affairs committee to succeed the late Julius Kahn of California. He will serve as chairman until March 4, when he retires from Congress.

Boy Bandit Is Made 'Ivories King' by Radio

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 6.—Harry M. Snodgrass, 20-year-old St. Louis highway robber, who, through the miracle of radio, was reborn as "King of the Ivories" while behind the penitentiary walls, steps into a $600 a week job ten days from today when he is released from prison. Snodgrass has signed a year's contract with the Chicago Orpheum Co. It became known today. He will appear in concerts.

UNIFORM LAW ON DIVORCE IS SOUGHT

New Drive Planned In 1925 By Reformers; Propose Year's Engagement

By ROBERT T. SMALL
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925
WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The year 1925 will be marked by a new drive on the part of some of the reform organizations making their headquarters here for uniform divorce laws throughout the country.

Students of the divorce problem have reached the conclusion that one of the surest methods of dealing with the evil is first of all to make marriage far more difficult than it is today. Modern young people take matrimony in too light a vein, it has been found. They feel secure in the belief that if a mistake is made, it will be easy enough to get a divorce and start all over again.

The many marital affairs of movie stars and other actors and actresses have had their effect upon youthful minds, for both boys and girls follow the careers of the bright lights of the screen as worshippers at their shrines.

Follow Shaw Plan
Some years ago there was an inclination everywhere to laugh at George Bernard Shaw's proposal that marriage be made as difficult in the future as divorces and that divorces be made as easy as marriages. Today the first part of the Shavian idea is being adopted by some of the most profound thinkers of the country. Dr. S. P. Brooks, president of Baylor University, Waco, Texas, is out with the suggestion that the marriage laws of all the states

AUTO CLUB TO DRAFT GAS MEASURE

State Association Convenes To Plan Legislation For Higher Tax

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—With the proposed increase in the state gasoline tax as the major issue before them, members of the California State Automobile association and the Southern California Automobile club, went into executive session here today to draft their legislative program.

Several amendments to the state motor vehicle act will probably be proposed by the auto clubs, members of the legislative committee stated, but the legislative program will not be announced until it has been completed and signed by representatives of both organizations. The conference is expected to continue through tomorrow.

Chemical Analysis of L. A. Gas Demanded

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6.—Chemical analysis of Los Angeles' gas supply was demanded today by Dr. George Parrish, city health officer, at a meeting of officials called to investigate the mounting toll of deaths here due to carbon monoxide gas poisoning.

"The heavy loss of life from the insidious 'sleep of death' has aroused a doubt in the minds of many persons as to the quality of gas used in Los Angeles and it is only reasonable to ask for an analysis," Dr. Parrish declared.

While the death list for the season remained today at seventeen, three persons were rescued from the "sleep of death" when found unconscious in their homes. They were rushed to hospitals and revived.

BARRED FROM PLAYING

CINCINNATI, Jan. 6.—August Herrmann, president of the Reds, announced today he would forbid infielder Sam Bohne to play basketball on the Pacific coast with Jimmy O'Connell, banished Giant, and George Kelly.

LOVE OF RISK RESULTS IN SMUGGLING

Desire To Get By Custom Lines Prompts Many To Take Big Chances

By EDNA MARSHALL
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The eternal quest for excitement, springing from the school-day love of breaking a rule and the "kick" of getting away with it, has led more than half of the persons entering America from abroad during the last 12 months to engage in smuggling—as an industry, art or pastime.

To slip past the customs lines with something under cover has come to be the greatest game on earth—played most frequently by wealthy travelers, with no idea of being dishonest, but filled with the love of "sport."

Nineteen twenty-four has been a record year for smuggling, actual and innocent. It also has been the record year for "catches" by the shrewd inspectors who wait for each homing vessel at New York's steamship piers. Too wide a smile, too willing a manner, too anxious a look or a hesitating answer has turned the game in favor of the authorities.

During the past year tens of thousands of Americans have returned from abroad. More than half of that number have carried tucked away in some old corner of a suit case or trunk, some few things beyond the official allotment that do not appear on their declaration lists. The large percentage have done it "just for the fun of putting something over"—feeling "perfectly sure that Uncle Sam would never miss those few dollars in customs."

TEUTONS BALK AT ATTITUDE OF ALLIES

Germans Embittered by Note Alleging Violation of Versailles Treaty

By S. D. WEYER
For International News Service.
BERLIN, Jan. 6.—A storm of protest has been aroused in the German press by the allied note explaining the delay in the evacuation of Cologne.

The ambassador's note stated the allies held proof that Germany had not lived up to the Versailles treaty, but had continued the manufacture of war materials and the storage of arms and munitions in quantities far above permitted by the treaty.

The only exception to the general protests today was the Vorwarts, which said:

"Compliance with allied criticism and redressing of their grievances, if justified, is the only way towards evacuation."

The nationalist press, on the other hand, assails the government's "weakness" and urges an immediate reply, charging the allies with flagrant violation of the Versailles treaty. It points out that Germany's silence may be taken for the reticence of a guilty conscience.

Many Mourn Death of Frisco Social Leader

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—Friends today were mourning the passing of Mrs. Russell J. Wilson, widely known San Francisco social leader and pioneer, who died at her home here late yesterday, after a brief illness. She was the wife of the late Russell J. Wilson, himself a pioneer and a prominent Californian.

Bachelor Law Maker Urged To Tax 'Frat'

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 6.—George Cleveland, assemblyman from Watsonville, dean of the bachelors in the Legislature, reports he is being urged to introduce two measures both for and against his fraternity.

Today he was offered the honor of introducing a bill denying divorces, or former spouses, from marrying other than those who had been married before. It was pointed out there would be better choice for the single men. Also, such a law would tend to minimize divorces.

From his home district comes the hint that his constituents want bachelors taxed for the support of widows and orphans.

ECONOMY PLEA BY COOLIDGE SUSTAINED IN VOTE

President Willing to Grant Wage Boost If Revenue Is Also Increased

By WM. K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—President Coolidge's policy of drastic government economy was endorsed by the Senate this afternoon when it sustained his veto of the $68,000,000 postal pay bill.

The measure was vetoed by the president last spring because it failed to provide the revenue for increasing the salaries of postal employees.

Since then he has announced he would approve the wage increases if the revenues were provided in the same bill.

The vote was 55 to 29 in favor of passing the bill. One more vote for the bill would have resulted in passing of the measure over the president's veto.

Administration leaders announced immediately they would amend the Moses compromise postal bill, to strike out the wage increase provisions, and hasten its enactment to provide the $68,000,000 revenue through higher postal rates.

On today's vote, senators changed their votes as compared to the original enactment of the bill. On that occasion, but three senators opposed the measure—Fess and Willis of Ohio, and Borah of Idaho, all Republicans.

$15,000,000 Rail Line Started Over Arizona

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 6.—First construction work on the Southern Pacific railroad's new $15,000,000 double track main line through Arizona was under way today. ATWATER PREPARES FOR GREAT YEAR

Community Improvement Association In Meeting Makes Plans; Reach Fine Record In Building Permits

Plans for activities of the coming year were discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the Atwater Community Improvement association, held last night in the auditorium of the Christian church, corner of Edenhurst and Gardendale avenues. J. J. Rammage, vice-president of the association, presided, in absence of A. M. Gilman, president.

Paving projects on Revere avenue, Boyce street, Brunswick avenue, Dover street and Appleton street were discussed during the major part of the meeting. It was voted to hold the next session on Monday night, January 19, at the Atwater park Baptist church, corner of Perlita avenue and Tyburn street.

Officers of the improvement association are: A. M. Gilman, president; J. J. Rammage, vice-president; J. E. Noble, secretary, and P. E. Libscomb, treasurer.

Building Permit Record

Twenty-one building permits, representing construction valued at $75,000, was the record for the first two days of January in the Atwater district, according to a check made at the Los Angeles building inspector's office by J. L. Tugman. These permits, taken out for new residences and business buildings in the Atwater section, are believed to establish a record for any two days in the history of the district.

The list included three new store buildings to be built on the east side of Glendale boulevard. The other eighteen permits were for private dwellings. The record established for January 2 and 3 in the Atwater district better by approximately $10,000 the building permit totals of the city of Glendale for the same two days. Atwater boosters point out.

CHILD LABOR LAW WAITS IN OFFING

Five Assemblywomen Work For Ratification of Amendment

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 6.—With the forces of Governor Friend W. Richardson in control of the key positions in both Senate and Assembly following yesterday's hectic opening of the forty-sixth California Legislature, the program today called for a consolidation of the administration's organization, and then for the consideration of the usual quota of legislative business, including action on the joint resolution for ratification of the federal constitutional child labor amendment, which is ready for introduction in both Senate and Assembly.

Consideration of the child labor amendment will take place as soon as Governor Richardson, under the law, officially notifies the State Legislature of the amendment's adoption by Congress. The Legislature will be urged by friends of the measure to ratify the amendment at once.

Five assemblywomen are actively engaged in backing the child labor amendment. They are: Miss Estie Broughton, Miss Eleanor Miller, Mrs. Anna L. Saylor, Mrs. Grace Dorris and Mrs. Cora B. Woodbridge.

Crook Drama New Play On Dobinson Schedule

Whether or not you believe in Spiritualism, and some of the biggest minds of the day argue that there is a great deal to it, you will find the treatment of this subject in Fred Jackson's drama, "The Hole in the Wall," which is to be this week's offering at the Playhouse, Central at Lexington, Glendale, described as one of the most absorbing plays ever produced. "The Hole in the Wall" drives home an intensely interesting argument without sermonizing.

Crooks who utilize so-called Spiritualism supply part of the action.

An augmented cast will be seen in this production, including Olaf Hytten, Mary Worth, Joseph McManus, Richard Ehlers, William H. Stephens, Thyrna Ralston, Wilfred Evelyn, Fanna Ralston, William Chapman and Harry Glazier.

Fifty members of Glendale Post No. 127, American Legion, including the drum and bugle corps, will go to Monrovia tonight to conduct the meeting of the post at that city. Officers of the local post who served in 1924 will have charge of the large initiation, while the "wrecking crew" of the local post will handle the candidates.

Trophies won by various Legion posts in Southern California in the Tournament of Roses will be presented by officials of the county council. Officials and delegates from many posts in Southern California will be present at the meeting.

The Glendale delegation will leave the post headquarters at 610 East Broadway at 6:30 o'clock in a 50-passenger bus, secured by D. M. Hammond, chairman of the transportation committee. Past Commander Joseph A. Wilson will be in charge of the delegation and will lead in the initiation work at Monrovia.

Recently two officials of the Glendale post attended a meeting of the local unit and were so impressed with the businesslike manner in which Commander Wilson conducted the meeting that the post was invited to visit Monrovia and show the Legionnaires how to handle a meeting.

To reach Bohemia's latest dancing haunt in London, couples must walk through a garage and ascend a rickety iron set of steps.

Church Members Plan To Help With Revival

Plans for the part which members of the First Methodist church will take in the revival which will be held by Rev. John E. Brown from February 8 to March 8 were made last night at the meeting of the official board of the church. Dr. Lincoln A. Ferris, pastor of the church, presided at the meeting, thirty-seven members being present. The tabernacle will be erected on Kenwood street south of the First Methodist church, between Broadway and Wilson avenue. Work on the building will be started January 10. Members of the board were appointed to represent the First Methodist church in the work. C. W. Ingledue was appointed chairman of the division of workers on the erection of the tabernacle, C. D. Lusby is chairman of the group of ushers, Dr. W. B. Collins is chairman to organize prayer groups, Rev. H. I. Rasmus, jr., associate pastor of the First Methodist church, was chosen to head the young people's organization of the church.

Committees to Report At Realty Board Meet

Reports of committees on activities of the past month will be given at the regular weekly meeting of the Glendale Realty board tomorrow at noon at the Egyptian Village cafe. Other business of the board will be transacted at this meeting, which is set aside for the first Wednesday of each month.

Again Governor Richardson scored a victory for efficiency and economy with the re-election of Frank F. Merriam of Long Beach as speaker of the Assembly and Arthur Breed as president pro tempore of the Senate in the California Legislature.

But the margin left the governor in the lower house—a lone vote—although it is understood that the one absent member would have voted for Mr. Merriam, is none too satisfactory for the safety of administration measures. Fortunately, perhaps, the governor is not seeking legislation.

Every bit of additional legislation means more expense. And it seems to this observer at Sacramento that the representatives, even though they claim to be progressives, are going to be conservative in their product this year, for they have begun to appreciate the governor's viewpoint.

Patronage—a matter in which attaches are interested—has gone most to San Franciscans this year, and from efforts made on their behalf it appears the bay districts have a labor problem which have wished on Sacramento which is one of the great labor markets of the west.

in Glendale! That's the last market available in the capital.

Farmers this year are not active in the lobbies but they have some mighty good men representing them on the floor of both Assembly and Senate when it comes to expounding their particular logic which happens to be "Give the farmers something."

As one of the city-bred members said: "We will give you anything you want if you show us how you are going to do it when you get it."

Farmers are not alone in the demand for something. Methuen San Francisco is going to ask whole lot when they see fit to establish civic headquarters in three-room suite in the new Ho Senator. It is a type of house Glendale will have some day, it is to be hoped.

Postmaster Seeking Extension of Service

Extension of mail service in Grand View and Glendale Heights districts, in the vicinity of Kenwood road and Pacific avenue, elsewhere throughout Glendale will again be sought by Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson during the present session of Congress. Recommendations that postal service be extended to these sections will first be made by the postmaster on November 10. At that time no favorable action was taken, due to the straitened financial condition of the postal budget. It is the hope of Postmaster Jackson to secure the a'ded service to the appropriations for 1925 available.

WATER SUPPLY IN SERIOUS SITUATION

Engineers Declare System
Followed by Glendale Is Best In State

By GIL A. COWAN
Of The Evening News Staff.
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 6.—Much is said about Glendale's water supply. Los Angeles people sometimes wonder at the problems confronting this city. San Francisco has been accused of a grab in the Hetch Hetchy project.
Santa Barbara's supply is endangered by litigation.

Water is a subject in California to which there is no end. The expense, the waste, the engineering problems encountered are appalling as this city has found. It voted $3,000,000 in bonds for a filtration plant. According to reliable information the cement settling tanks were unfortunately built on quicksand formation.
They settled. The settling process sheared off intake pipes. It is going to cost $3,000 and more for a survey of filtration plant's needs to make it practical.

There is some doubt that the job, which some call a botch, never will work. Sacramento may have to follow the lead of other cities and take its water from the back country, say around Folsom, and precipitate rows like those enjoyed by Los Angeles and San Francisco and Santa Barbara.

Filtration Failed
In their filtration scheme here the engineers advised aeration of the muddy Sacramento river water. That scheme went awry, too, because of fatal errors in the drafted plans, although an average citizen understands why the plan doesn't work, just as they know a stone doesn't fall up.
Sacramento people say little about their misfortune. It is only natural. Other cities can consider it as an object lesson, however.
Mere voting of bonds doesn't insure the public of successful enterprise. Well meaning public officials may be fooled by what they consider competent advice, as was the case here.

By comparison Glendale has solved its water and sewage needs far more successfully than most of the larger cities of the state.

TRAFFIC TEST
So successful was the contest of motor vehicles on the "circuit" of cobblestone roads in Lille, France, last September, that the event is to be an annual test for automobiles, tractors and motorcycles over roads that are in bad condition.

Germany Runs Along Without Cabinet Help

BERLIN, Jan. 6.—Germany will have a new legislative body in session without a cabinet to direct the government's policies.
This situation was made evident today when Chanceller Marx again reported to President Ebert that he could not form a new cabinet. The reason, he said, was that the centrist party is insisting on a coalition which would include the social democrats. The German people's party, Marx said, refused to listen to any coalition plan.

BRUNSWICK STAR ON RADIO WAVES

Harry James, Popular In Glendale to Broadcast
Special Programs

Harry James, Glendale monologist and entertainer, known to radio fans and concert audiences of the southland, left yesterday for San Francisco to fill engagements over the radio and as speaker and entertainer for clubs, schools and other organizations.
His engagements in the north include exclusive broadcasting from station KGO, a Radio Corporation of America concern, associated with the Brunswick Co., of which Mr. James is a representative.

From KGO Mr. James' voice will play a leading character in three plays, given from 8 to 10 o'clock. The names of the plays and characters Mr. James will take, and dates of presentation are: "Lady Windermere's Fan," Lord Darlington, January 8; "The Green Goddess," The Rajah (or the English cockney), January 15; "Arms and the Man," Major Sergius, January 29.

On January 27 Mr. James will broadcast humorous monologues, and on February 12 Lincoln's Gettysburg address. The Brunswick Co. now is preparing for sale a double record by Mr. James, on one side the Gettysburg address, and on the other "Brunswick's of Lincoln."

Concluding his stay in the north
Mr. James will present a "Brunswick Night" over KGO, February 24.

Following the idea of the night air-mail service in the United States, plans are under way for having mail from Continental England carried to London by train and then by airplane to Paris, giving all England overnight service to France.

TELL WORK OF CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

Annual Report Is Given at Meeting of Auxiliary
By Mrs. Morgan

The Glendale auxiliary to the Children's hospital opened activities for the new year with a busy meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. M. Server, 1635 Gardena avenue. Mrs. E. J. Morgan, president, presided.

In her report for 1924, Mrs.
Morgan stated that the auxiliary and stanch supporters, the various chapters of P. E. O., might well feel highly gratified at the results of their combined efforts during the past year, as records show that twenty-seven Glendale children have been treated in the hospital, fully two-thirds of that number having received free treatment.

In addition to these, eighty-three Glendale children have been treated at the clinic. When she visited the hospital just before the holidays delivery was made of the many donations from Glendale, including four dozen garments made by the members of the Thursday Afternoon club of Glendale and chapter L, P. E. O., which chapter also donated a box of apples, jellies, preserves, vegetables, and groceries from chapter AH, P. E.
O., and seven quarts of preserves were donated by Mrs. F. H. Hil-lers, of 115 North Adams street.

Report Collections
Mrs. F. W. Kille, reported collections from milk bottles placed in various stores of the city, made a total of $23.80. Mrs. H. N.
Hamilton will have charge of the cutting of materials for making garments for the month of January. Mrs. J. C. McNaughton, entered the organization as an active member.

Mrs. T. G. McDougall announced that the Hi-Y boys are becoming interested in the work and have volunteered their services to assist in the salvage drive to be conducted by the auxiliary during the latter part of the month.
The next meeting will be held the first Monday in February, at the home of Mrs. James H. Cunningham, 1026 Florence place.
Those present Monday were: Mrs.
E. J. Morgan, president; Mrs. E.
V. Bacon, Mrs. T. G. McDougall,
Mrs. P. E. Maxwell, Mrs. James H. Cunningham, Mrs. F. L. Doggett, Mrs. J. C. McNaughton, Mrs.
F. A. Archer, Mrs. F. W. Kille, Mrs.
H. N. Hamilton, Mrs. W. E. Anderson and Mrs. J. M. Server.

FIX DATES OF EISTEDDFOD CONTESTS

Week Starting April 13 Is Chosen for District Meet In Glendale

The week of April 13, beginning on Easter Monday, has been set for the Glendale district contests of the Southern California Eisteddfod, when leaders in music and the allied arts from Glendale and surrounding communities will present six days of carefully-prepared programs and exhibitions.

Announcement of the date of the Glendale contests, which will be at the same time as those in Ventura county, was made here by A. L. Baird, chairman of the Eisteddfod department of the Glendale Community Service, which organization is sponsoring the movement in this district. Glendale's request for the dates from April 13 to April 18 was made in the conference of leaders of the movement in Los Angeles last Saturday afternoon, when the time of all district contests was determined.

With this definite goal, workers in this city and their assistants in Burbank, Eagle Rock, Montrose, Tujunga and La Crescenta and San Fernando are busy completing rules for the contestants and outlining programs for the various nights, with the departments of music, drama and are preparing special participation.

Finals to Follow
The music department, which is divided into choral, vocal, orchestral, instrumental, and other branches, is expected to be held in churches, schools and clubhouses, all artistic organizations of the city being heartily in accord with this movement to further interest in art branches.
Following the Glendale and other district contests, the winners will meet in Los Angeles for final competition.

Decide on Prizes Heads of departments will meet here on noon tomorrow to determine on prizes and designs for three awards. The executive committee has announced that it does not favor cash prizes and it is expected that the Glendale district will follow the action of other divisions in presenting some type of medal.

Besides Mrs. Roy Ballagh, Mrs.
Walter C. Fisher and H. M. Butts, chairmen of the art, drama and music committees, respectively, one other representative of each division, to be chosen by the chairmen, will attend the meeting tomorrow. A. L. Baird and R.
Ernest Tucker, superintendent of recreation, will also be present, representing the general district committee.

Gymnasium Work Rules Are Adopted by Club Rules governing attendance and procedure of the gymnasium class of the Women's Athletic club, Monday nights at Harvard High school, were formulated by Dr.
Harriet Farnham, chairman of calisthenics, and read at the class meeting last night. There were forty-five women present, all expressing themselves as greatly in favor of the rules and predicting a most beneficial result in class work.

At the class meeting Mrs. Virginia Farr, chairman of hiking, stated that she is arranging a short hike for next week, the time to be announced. Golf classes are meeting today; tennis players will be on the courts tomorrow; and the swimming class meets Friday.
New classes are being formed in all these departments.

A luncheon meeting of the board of directors will be held at 12 o'clock tomorrow at the home of Mrs. C. M. Conklin, 456 West Myrtle street.

Old-Fashion Inaugural Is Coolidge Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—
There will be an old-fashioned inaugural parade on March 4, with marching delegations from all the states, it was indicated today, following the appointment of William T. Gallagher, local banker, as chairman of the inaugural committee.
Gallagher's appointment was made by President Coolidge. He will have charge of all arrangements for the inaugural, apart from the official ceremonies at the capitol.

CONCERT SINGER APPEARS TONIGHT

Eva Gauthier Gives Program Here Under Auspices Of Club Women

Glendale will hear Eva Gauthier tonight. Miss Gauthier has the reputation of being one of the most accomplished singers on the concert stage. She is appearing in Glendale under the auspices of the Glendale Music club. With Gordon Hampson as accompanist on the piano she will appear at 8 o'clock tonight at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse.

There has been a big demand for the tickets for tonight's concert. Prominent musical and social leaders will entertain with concert parties, many of the guests coming from out of town.
Miss Gauthier lived for five years in Java and her first song group tonight will be Javanese songs, presented in costume.
There will follow a classical group of old and modern songs with Shakespearean settings, and miscellaneous group. Mrs. Hampson will render some piano selections.

Other songs by Miss Gauthier will be American popular songs, including "Alexander's Ragtime Band," "The Siren's Song," "Carolina in the Morning," "Stairway to Paradise," "Innocent Ingenuity Baby" and "Swanee." Miss Gauthier confesses she was fearful of the success of her program when she first sang the jazz group. "It is a question," she said, "whether other artists will follow in my footsteps. Most of them are afraid to attempt anything new.
But it is getting so now that every soprano sings the same things and every tenor sings the same things. Something must be done."

And Miss Gauthier is doing it, always introducing something new, never afraid to try an experiment, she goes on her way.
Tickets for the concert can be purchased by non-club members at the Glendale Music store or at Roberts and Echols drug store.

Christian Endeavorers In 'Friendship' Meet

"Friendship" was the theme of the weekly meeting held last night at the senior intermediate Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church. The leaders were Misses Elizabeth Simpson and Helen Gaskin. The usual program of song and devotion was carried out.
The meeting was the first of a series of attendance contests which is being held between the boys and the girls of the society for the month of January, the winning side to be guests of the losers at a skating party next month. The victory for the evening went to the girls, in thirty-three of their having present thirty-three of their members as against thirty of the boys. The goal for the week was won.

The annual I. C. E. banquet of the society will be held at 6:30
p. m., Friday, at the church.

Los Angeles Banker To Speak on Thrift

Douglas Buckler of the Hell-man banks, Los Angeles, who recently addressed the Glendale Union High school Parent-Teacher association, will be heard in another talk on "Thrift," Thursday afternoon, at the meeting of Glendale Intermediate Parent-Teacher association. The board of the association will meet at 2 o'clock. At 3 o'clock Mr. Buck-ler will speak in the auditorium.
Besides his talk there will be a program by the B7 grade. Later a social hour will be held in the domestic science room.

Glendale Foresters Going to Santa Paula

Members from Glendale Court, Independent Order of Foresters, will leave Glendale Friday afternoon by automobile for Santa Paula, where they will attend the installation ceremonies of the Santa Paula court officers. A large number are planning to make the trip.

ANNIVERSARY LUNCHEON PLANNED

Members of College Women's Club Will Celebrate Second Birthday

An anniversary luncheon of the Glendale College Women's club will be held at 12:30 o'clock Saturday, January 10, at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, marking the second birthday of the club. Continuing a custom established last year the club members may bring as many pennies as they are old for contribution to the scholarship fund.

Under the direction of Miss Clara Lauderdale, elaborate plans are being made for the decorations of the luncheon tables. The club colors, orange and white, will predominate. On the table of honor will be a birthday cake. Mrs.
Frank W. Parr, club president, will preside over the luncheon hour, planning to make it one of informal pleasure and reminiscences of club history.

To Discuss Drama
Following the luncheon Mrs.
Parr will direct a short business session.

The speaker of the afternoon will be Dr. Mildred Struble of the English department of the University of Southern California. Her subject will be "Modern Drama." Musical features will be furnished by the music department of U. S. C.

Reservations for the luncheon must be made immediately. Up until Thursday reservations will be received by Mrs. J. W. Knight at Glendale 245-B and Mrs.
Frank W. Parr, Glendale 1124-J.

Miss Tilda Rohr Will Sing at Church Jan. 7

Added attraction for the entertainment to be given Wednesday night at Central Christian church by young people of Wilshire Christian church, is given in the announcement that Miss Tilda Rohr, contralto singer, who has appeared before Glendale audiences, and won success over the radio, will give song groups. The Wilshire young people from Los Angeles are to present the threeact comedy, "Miss Fearless & Co."
The play will be at 8 o'clock, following the prayer service. To everybody is invited to attend. A silver offering will be received.

Legion Leader Resumes His Eastern Trip

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah,
Jan. 6.—Colonel James H.
Drain, national commander of the American Legion, is reported much improved today, following an attack of what was believed to be acute indigestion late Sunday. While his condition caused great uneasiness among members of the Legion here, it was said that treatment had greatly relieved Colonel Drain and that his condition was not serious. After treatment by Dr. Baldwin, Colonel Drain was strong enough to go to the Union Pacific depot and take a train for Indianapolis.

DR. L. ASHCROFT HEADS CAT CLUB

Is Re-elected President at Annual Meeting Held Last Night

Dr. Libbie Ashcroft was re-elected president of Glendale Cat club at the meeting held last night at the home of Mrs. Kathryn Ross, 1917 San Rafael avenue. Reports were given on the past year's work with special mention of the annual show, held the first week in December, 1924. Several new members were received by the club.

Other officers chosen to serve with Dr. Ashcroft are Mrs. Kathryn Ross, first vice-president; Mrs. D. W. Cunningham, second vice-president; Mrs. Maude Burn-ford, recording secretary; Mrs.
Catherine Hoyer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. B. Jenkins, treasurer.

Resident of Canada Visits In Glendale

Remarkable growth in Glendale is noted by James H. Cutting who arrived yesterday from his home in Ontario, Canada, to spend the winter with his sister, Mrs. Clara F. Brown, 216 West Hawthorne street. Mr. Cutting visited Glendale six years ago and states he is amazed to see evidences on every hand of prosperity and development of the city.

CITY PLANNERS WILL MEET SATURDAY

Luncheon at Inglewood to Be Attended by Various Organizations

The City Planning commission voted last night to accept the invitation of the Inglewood Chamber of Commerce, to meet in that city for luncheon on Saturday, January 10, with the other city planning organizations of Los Angeles county. The meeting was held at the City Hall, T. W. Watson, chairman, presiding.

The object of the Inglewood gathering is an open discussion of general planning problems, as they affect each section in particular and the county in general.
Mr. Watson declared. If the affair proves a success, it may be the first of a series of monthly meetings among the planners, each meeting held at one of the cities or communities of Los Angeles county.

The City Planning commission
last night approved the application of the Saunders Paint Co. to erect a small sign over their place of business at 138 North Brand boulevard. An application for establishment of a commercial district at Colorado boulevard and Adams street was continued one week.

Norman Girard Chosen 1925 Class President

At a meeting of the S-A class of Wilson Intermediate school, Norman Girard, a member of the A-8 III class and at present holding the office of president of the Boys' Athletic association, was elected president of the winter 1925 class.
Miss Lucretia Potter, class teacher for the A-8 I, acted as chairman of the meeting. Miss Helen Gould,
A-8 III class teacher, and Miss Lois Hanna, A-8 II class teacher, were also present. The outgoing class at Wilson numbers 120 members.

Gay posters are beginning to appear announcing the A-8 carnival at the school on January 16.
The affair is to include a variety show and circus and the report is that it will be an extravaganza as yet unequalled in the history of the school.

The Home of Your Dreams

An ideal with all of us—to have a home of beauty and of restful comfort, a place to be proud of; interesting, inspiring, inviting, cozy! Often it takes but a piece or two to entirely change the interior of a home. Sometimes a new suite is necessary. But new furniture is an inspiration to all the family.

New furniture will add to the beauty and comfort—and interest—of your home, make it more nearly "the home of your dreams."

TOMORROW—FIRST ADVANCE SELECTION

Day in Our Midwinter Sale of Living Room Furniture

The opportunity to get the new furniture your home needs at prices considerably below regular prices is offered in an important annual De Luxe event that begins with these advance selection days—10% to 33 1-3% reductions on all furniture on our display floor.

To give you an opportunity to see for yourself the values in advance, to compare them and to consider carefully the unusual savings they offer, we have these days of courtesy.

Tomorrow the sale values will be ready—you can inspect them leisurely and make advance selections at sale prices, though your reservations will not be delivered until after January 15th.

Immigration Law's Net Gets Rich Canadians

DETROIT, Jan. 6.—William S. Anderson, 32, Toronto engineer and son of a millionaire St. Johns, Quebec, banker, and Muriel Gilmore, 21, a Toronto society girl, claiming to be a daughter of the purchasing agent of the Canadian National railway were arrested late yesterday on charges of violating the immigration laws. According to police the couple came to Detroit following a new year's party in Toronto attended by several American millionaires.

Federal Judge Rules Against Rum Runners

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—Federal Judge Partridge upheld the legality of the seizure of the Canadian rum runner Quadra in federal court when he denied a motion of counsel for the owners of the vessel, the Consolidated Exports company of Vancouver, to suppress the evidence as represented by the vessel and its cargo. Counsel for Consolidated argued that it had been seized outside the 12-mile limit specified in the rum running treaty between the two countries.

Aged Prison Worker Is Housed In Wagon Home

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6.—No longer able to carry on her missionary work among prisoners in the United States, in which she has spent many years of her life, Mrs. L. H. Barker, now camped in a humble wagon near Loma Linda, has appealed for help through the police. She is sending her 9-year-old son to school, although unable to work herself. Mrs. Barker has had an unusual career, working and preaching in local, state and federal prisons throughout the country.

IMPROVEMENT OF RESERVOIR GROUNDS

Council Authorizes Mayor to Sign Contract; Change Salary Ordinance

The Glendale City Council this morning authorized Mayor Spencer Robinson to sign a contract with Jewett & Co., for the excavation, grading and landscaping of the Western avenue reservoir grounds, the contract price being $925. The council granted Jewett & Co., a fifteen day permit to maintain a mule camp near the reservoir, for the purpose of doing the work.

A. L. Fleming was awarded the contract for improvement of the first alley north of Broadway. Bids for the improvement of Raleigh street were opened and read. On recommendation of Virgil B. Stone, city manager, $250 was transferred from the advertising and promotion fund, as a contribution toward the expenses of the local American Legion post, in entering a float in the Tournament of Roses parade at Pasadena on January 1; and $140 was transferred from this fund, on recommendation of Virgil B. Stone, to complete payments on eighteen uniforms for the Glendale Municipal Drum corps.

Seek Improvements
Petitions for the improvement of Irving avenue and Lake street were ordered filed. The hearing on assessments for opening and widening of Fifth street was continued until Thursday, January 8, the next meeting of the Council. Complaints against the Kennels of the Glendale Humane society on San Fernando road near Broadway were referred to the city manager for investigation and report.

The council passed the amended salary ordinance, removing September 9, October 12 and February 12 from the municipal holiday list, and providing for additional help in certain departments. A resolution was adopted ordering the superintendent of plant and production to bid on ornamental street lighting standards for Harvey drive. A resolution was adopted making specifications for the standard for street paving of the asphaltic concrete type, with asphaltic concrete wearing surface.

Increase In Prices For Eggs Is Probable

quality and this new quality basis tended to stabilize the industry to a greater extent than ever before. A good many farmers got disgusted with the efforts of their hens and disposed of them, but there was no flood of fowls coming to market. Receipts of dressed poultry were very light during the summer but increased rapidly during the fall and early winter and when the new year approached there were about 16,000,000 pounds more dressed poultry on hand than at the corresponding time last year.

The spread of disease among the flocks in some sections, which was followed by embargoes from many markets, checked shipments to a considerable degree and resulted in some severe losses. Prices in many of the markets maintained a level as high as that of 1923 and there is evidence that good figures will obtain in the early months of this year.

Feed Prices Gain
The increase in the prices of poultry feed is expected to affect the market and while chickens are responding well to their feeds and putting on relatively more flesh for their rations than other livestock, dealers will have to pay more attention to egg production per hen to keep the chickens on the right side of the road to profits. In relation to prices of poultry, eggs and hogs, corn prices are extremely high. Not only do farmers prefer to sell their corn for cash at present levels rather than feed poultry and hogs with ration consisting well over $1.50 a bushel, but more corn is required to produce the same number in value than when the quality was better and included less moisture.

It is even more difficult to see how the poultrymen can afford to buy wheat near the $2 mark to feed chickens selling at present prices. If demand does not keep prices up, it is probable that a large number of hens will be sold before mid year. This will tend to keep down egg production and sustain egg prices, although it will have an opposite effect on prices for dressed poultry.

Glendale to Present Radio Program Jan. 17

The next Glendale radio program broadcasted under the direction of the Chamber of Commerce will take place on Saturday night, January 17. Glendale will go on the air at 9 o'clock, according to present plans, and will broadcast a program of musical numbers for one hour. There will be one short talk on the city by Bert P. Woodward, Glendale attorney. Arrangement of the program, to be given over KFI, is in the hands of the Chamber of Commerce radio committee, Gould H. Warren, chairman; R. Ernest Tucker and J. Arthur Myers.

Banker's Son In Jail, Victim Of Blackmail

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Jan. 6.—Warren A. Morford, 18, became a convict today through a blackmail charge, a means he took to aid his father, Allen R. Morford, former mayor of St. Joseph, to fight a bank robbery charge at San Diego.

Young Morford tried to obtain $5000 from J. O. Wells and $750 from Waldo V. Tiscornia, wealthy businessmen. Judge Charles M. White sentenced the son to from one to two years in Iowa. The elder Morford went west for his health two years ago and a year later was arrested as a bandit who robbed a San Diego bank. He was given a short sentence in San Quentin. Young Morford returned east to obtain money for his father.

FRANK C. WELLER RECEIVES HONORS

Glendale Assemblyman Gets Recognition; Religious Education Bills

enced temperamentally, in character, and he has the pre-eminent ability to serve as speaker.

According to the so-called progressive leaders—Assemblymen Coombs, Spalding and Brock, the latter from Redlands, were expected to vote for Jones. This loss offset the two gained by throwing Rosenshine overboard and resulted in Merriam's victory, 40 to 39.

Today the first reception of bills sees a fight for the honor of presenting the joint resolution endorsing the federal child labor amendment and more than 200 bills are going into the hopper during the day.

Message Tomorrow

Tomorrow the governor's message will be the big topic of conversation. From well informed circles it is said he is precipitating no fight over economy, and Will C. Wood, state superintendent of public instruction, who is again present to see that his interests are not slighted, seems satisfied that personalities will not be engaged in during the session. "Everything wrong in the whole school system is blamed on me," Mr. Wood confided to the writer. "I am the goat. They talk about the teachers being loyal to me. Well, they ought to be. I get blamed for what they do."

Religious Legislation To Again Be Considered

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 6.—Religious education legislation will again come before the California Legislature, according to Miss Eleanor Miller, Pasadena assemblywoman, who today revealed plans for one bill in particular bearing on the subject. Miss Miller will shortly introduce a measure which will permit by law the excusing of pupils for several periods during the week from the public schools to attend privately conducted religious schools. This will not be compulsory, she says, which causes practically all group to agree that it is the most feasible plan of giving the moral training demanded by many.

Jews, Catholics, Christian Scientists, Seventh Day Adventists and other representative religions in general, she states, have had their leaders confer with her and they are agreed to such a program if it is possible to push it through the assembly and senate.

Increase In Crime

"There is no doubt but what the increase in crime is due to a lack of religious and moral training," Miss Miller commented. For many years she taught in the Pasadena public schools. "There is no way to make the children want to stay after school for religious education, yet I believe that many of them will take the advantage of time away from the three R's."

While it is being claimed today in some circles that religious and prohibition views kept some members from voting for Albert Rosenshine as speaker of the assembly, the action by the members in naming Dr. Rudolph I. Coffey, Oakland rabbi, as chaplain, clearly indicates that prejudices do not control the legislature, unless Los Angeles representatives would find fault with much of the patronage going to San Francisco men. In the Senate, the patronage was accorded more evenly with the south having Joseph Beek of Balboa named secretary and Joseph Nolan sergeant-at-arms.

Spanish War Vets Get Ready for Installation

Spanish War Veterans of Glendale went to Los Angeles last night for the initiation ceremonial at Roosevelt camp. Both the camp and auxiliary of Glendale will meet tomorrow night in the K. P. hall on South Brand boulevard. Reports will be given for past year. Officers will be installed January 21. Tom Galbraith, past department commander, will direct the camp installation. Mrs. Jesmire, past department president, and the department color team, will have charge of the auxiliary installation.

CHAPTER XIII

"There is no other news. May I smoke?"

Blunn nodded his permission. He sat back in his chair apparently studying his visitor. It was by no means a pleasant personality. The strength of his face lay rather in its cunning than in any other quality. His mouth was cruel. His eyes, as bright as beads, too shiny. His complexion was yellow even for an Oriental. His black hair reeked of the production of the barber's shop. The handkerchief which he had been holding in his hand seemed steeped with some powerful scent. The cigarette which he presently began to smoke had a pungent and almost sickly odor.

"Count Itash," Blunn said at last, "you are a very clever young man of the Oriental school, but you have one fault. You are too fond of women."

Itash removed his cigarette from his mouth. He seemed a little uncertain how to take the other's speech. In the end he grinned.

"In your country," he retorted, "it is wine and beer, and food. In mine it is flowers and women."

"You may dabble in horticulture as much as you choose," Blunn observed drily, "but women are dangerous."

"I have learnt to manage them," the young man declared. "So far as your personal comfort is concerned, no doubt that is so," Blunn acknowledged, "but you must remember that, to me, and many others, you do not exist as a young scion of the Japanese nobility who desires to achieve success as a diplomatist and walk meanwhile in the flowery ways. You are something more vital. You are a part-depositary of the greatest secret the world has ever known. Itash, if a single bead of the truth has sweated out of your carcass, you shall be looking for your particular corner in hell before the moon changes."

Blunn struck the table in front of him, not heavily, but with a sharp menacing tap. There were lines in his face now which few people ever saw. His cheeks seemed to have sagged a little, his eyes sunken. His lips had parted, and one of his teeth, always a slight disfigurement, had, for the moment, the appearance of a fang. Itash dropped his cigarette. The sudden attack had paralyzed him. He looked like a person stricken through fear into idiosyncrasy.

"Pick that up," Blunn directed, "and speak the truth, or nothing that I have ever threatened you with will count by the side of the things which shall surely happen. What have you told Cleo, the dancing girl of Monte Carlo?"

"Nothing, upon the tomb of my fathers!" the young man swore.

He picked up the cigarette. Blunn's questioning eyes still held him.

"Upon the great matters," he went on, "I have never spoken in my life with any human being, and as to women—they are my toys. I have never treated one seriously. It is not our way in Japan. There is not one of them who knows a thought that is in my brain, a feeling that comes from the heart. Not one, not one!"

"You know that this dancing girl has followed you to New York?" Blunn demanded.

"What has that to do with the matters that count?" Itash enquired wonderingly. "She has been the companion of my idle moments, she has never asked a question, she is like the others, a being for the dance, the wine, an hour or so of love. I tire of her and I take another companion. Sometimes you change wine for beer, is it not so?"

"I hear your words," Cornelius Blunn said. "Now listen to this, Itash, and tell me what you make of it with your Oriental wisdom. This dancing girl has followed you from Monte Carlo to New York. Two nights ago she visited Grant Slattery, was in his room for two hours. What do you make of that?"

"It is her profession," Itash sneered.

"You think so? That is the Oriental kink in you," Blunn declared. "A man like Grant Slattery doesn't amuse himself with east-off mistresses of such as you. Now listen! Of your wisdom answer me this. Why, on the morning after her visit, did Grant Slattery himself interview the managers of three great steel companies with whom Japan has dealt in this country?"

Itash's face expressed only bewilderment. He seemed utterly

Have you been married? Are you married? Do you ever hope to be married? If you come in any of these categories there will be food for thought in Hobart Henley's new production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, "So This Is Marriage," which is playing the last times today at the Gateway Theatre. The director has taken the problems of a newly wed young couple as a basis for a picture full of human interest and shrewd slants at success in marriage.

Eleanor Boardman is featured in the role of a flapper wife, while Conrad Nagel is the husband. Lew Cody is the gentleman who butts in on the private wire, and others in the cast include Clyde Cook, Warner Oland, Mabel Joulienne Scott, Edward Connelly, John Boles, and Miss DuPont. The story is by Carey Wilson.

unable to read the riddle of Blunn's words.

"I am foolish," he confessed. "I cannot see what distresses you. I cannot understand what Cleo—"

Blunn pulled him up. He was convinced that the young man was at least a harmless agent of his own undoing.

"Listen," he interrupted. "You are one of the few persons in a position to call the attention of people whom it might concern to the fact that Japan, during the last three years, has purchased more steel in the United States than would build her six battleships allowed her by the Limitation of Armaments twice over and relay every line of railway she has in Japan. Cleo, your sweetheart, comes to see Grant Slattery, and Grant Slattery interviews representatives of the very next morning."

"Never have I opened my lips to Cleo upon any such subject in my life," the young man asserted fervently. "She knows nothing. She can know nothing."

"Humph!" Blunn grunted. "The puzzle remains then. But I do not understand it. I am uneasy—it is one of the most unfortunate things which could have happened that this annual meeting of the Limitation of Armaments should be fixed for a date just before the question of joining the Pact comes up in the Senate. We keep our secrets well—we, who understand these things—but there are other mat-

DOBINSON PAYER

"A Hole in the Wall," the Fred Jackson melodrama that will open at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre on Wednesday, combines thrilling crook stuff with a weird spiritism motif. The net result is what will be voted the best show the Dobinson Players have yet offered, predicts Miss Eva Daniels, business manager. In New York, where it had a long run, the play was a hit.

Mary Worth portrays the character of Jean Oliver, a woman unjustly incarcerated in a state penitentiary, who aligned herself with a gang of clever crooks in order to be vindicated. Olaf Hytten will be seen in the role of "The Fox," while Joseph McManus has been given the report-detective to play.

UNCLE WIGGLY AND THE BLACK KITTEN

Once upon a time, as Nurse Jane looked out of the window of the hollow stump bungalow, she saw on the front porch a lump of something black.

"Uncle Wiggly!" called the muskrat lady housekeeper to the bunny rabbit gentleman. "I wish you would take the broom and sweep that black lump of mud off the porch. I think Carly or Floppy Twisttail, one of the piggy boys, must have left the mud there while playing."

"All right, I'll sweep it off," replied Uncle Wiggly. But when, a little later, he went out with the broom, the black lump wasn't to be seen.

"Well, I suppose the piggy boys saw it and swept it off," thought the rabbit gentleman. So he put the broom back in the closet, and after twinkling his pink nose two or three times, Uncle Wiggly started out to seek an adventure.

But, as he stepped on the front porch there was that black lump again.

"Ho! Ho!" laughed Mr. Longears. "Curly and Floppy must have dropped more black mud on Nurse Jane's clean porch. But I'll sweep it off."

This time, when Uncle Wiggly went out with the broom, the black lump was still there. He was just going to sweep it away when the lump moved a little, and out of it looked two bright, green eyes.

"My goodness! It is strange!" exclaimed Mr. Longears. "I never knew there were eyes in a lump of mud!"

"Mew! Mew! Mew!" "Gracious sakes alive!" cried the rabbit uncle. "What is this?"

"I'm a little black kitten; that's what I am," said the mewling voice. "If you don't believe it, look at my tail!" and out of the little black ball of fur a tiny tail was thrust.

"So you aren't a lump of black mud, after all?" asked Uncle Wiggly.

"No," mewed the pussy. "I'm a little black kitten and I'm lost and I'm cold and I'm hungry. It looked so nice and warm on your porch that I came here to curl up into a ball and go to sleep. But when I heard Nurse Jane tell you to get the broom and sweep me off, I ran away. Then, when you went in with the broom, I crept back and this time I slept so hard I didn't hear you come out. Are you going to sweep me away?"

"No, indeed!" laughed Uncle Wiggly. "And you aren't going to be lost, or cold or hungry any more!"

With that he picked up the little black kitten and carried it into the bungalow.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggly. Don't bring that black lump of mud into my clean kitchen!" cried Nurse Jane.

"Mew! Mew!" cried the pussy, and Nurse Jane was as much surprised as Uncle Wiggly had been.

"Oh, the dear little thing!" said Nurse Jane, when the black kitten looked at the muskrat lady housekeeper. "Put her down by the fire, Uncle Wiggly, and I'll give her some warm milk."

And when she had lapped up the warm milk, the black kitten curled up into a little round ball of fur again, and went to sleep. She was happy, for now she had a warm home for the winter.

WE are trying to wake up Mr. Put-it-off. We want you to know that a fire will cost him all he's gained if he procrastinates further. We'll call upon you.

HELP FOR OLD FOLKS
Old Age Should Be Happy—Not a
Time of Sickness and Suffering.
Too many people begin to suffer at middle age with constant back ache, urinary ills and rheumatic pains and aches. Weak kidneys are usually the cause and, if neglected, there is danger of hardened arteries, dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease. Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic before kidney disease gets a firm hold! Use Doan's Pills. Thousands of old folks recommend Doan's.
Here is Glendale proof:
Mrs. I. C. Wasson, 623 Acacia St., says: "My back was so lame and weak that there wasn't much I could do about the house. The least task tired me and many times I had to sit down and rest. Bearing down pains across my kidneys were continual. Headaches and dizzy spells were also frequent when colored spots floated before my eyes, blurring my sight. My kidneys did not act properly and I felt run down using Doan's Pills from Roberts & Echols' Drug Store, all trouble left me and I felt better in every way."

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

WHAT YOU WILL SIDESTEP BY REDUCING

As normal health has a great deal to do with beauty we might justly be accused of running a beauty column. However, I would prefer not to have the column thought of in that light because it is a little more serious than that.

I want you to understand why I, as a public health educator, spend so much time on weight reduction and the maintenance of normal weight. This is the reason; a campaign for normal weight means a campaign against diabetes, heart disease, arteriosclerosis, apoplexy, kidney disease, flat feet, intestinal disorders and a host of other unpleasant things. Now, I am going into detail a little about these diseases. It will help strengthen your resolve to reduce.

Diabetes
Joslin, and other great authorities on that disease, say that 75 per cent of the diabetics are overweight. Not that the fat in itself causes the trouble, but the same thing which causes the excess fat is one of the chief causes of diabetes—namely, the over-consumption of starches and sugars. So when you allow yourself to accumulate an excess of fat you may be heading for diabetes.

Arteriosclerosis or hardening of the arteries: Over-eating is one of the chief causes of this disorder. If you are overweight you are over-eating.

Heart Disease
Heart disease may result from hardening of the arteries, infections, etc., and it may also result from the heart's being covered too warmly with a blanket of fat. Or the fat may penetrate in between the muscle fibers of the heart, and later the heart muscle itself may degenerate into fat. A lump of fat will not function as anything.

Apoplexy
Apoplexy is the result of a rupture of an artery in the brain. It is due usually to arteriosclerosis which may be due to over-eating for a long enough time to accumulate excess weight. It is not considered a pleasant disease to have or to hold.

Kidney Disease
Cancer, gout, muscular rheumatism, neuritis, and other similar things are more prevalent in the overweight than they are in the underweight.

PERSONAL NOTES

L. L. Biggs of 729 Wing street has moved to 116A West Elk street.

Miss Marie Tahir, who has been residing at 233 Burchett street moved last week to 309 West Doran street.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Palmer, who have made their home at 1008 East Colorado street have moved to Los Angeles.

Mrs. Jean Oliver of Los Angeles was entertained over the weekend in the home of Mrs. Mabel Moore at 333 West Lexington drive.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. East and daughter Barbara of 121 West Lexington drive returned Sunday night from a few days' visit in Yuma, Arizona and El Centro.

William S. Shinner left Saturday night for Stanford university, Palo Alto, after spending the holidays with his parents at 334 S. Elm street.

Dr. F. C. Lee, who opened dental offices at 106 East Broadway last month, has moved to Glendale from Oxnard and with his family is residing at 1237 North Columbus avenue. Mrs. Lee is well known as a vocalist.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer F. Masters of 214 1/2 Hawthorne street; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Meincke; Mrs. Helen Goss, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. William T. Bauer and daughter, Isabel and son, William and Marion Norman, of Long Beach motored to Picoima Canyon Sunday to enjoy a beefsteak dinner. The Bauer and Norman families motored to Santa Barbara New Year's Day returning Friday night. They visited the Santa Barbara Mission.

spoon of vanilla (one cup of chopped walnuts are also delicious in the whipped cream). Just before serving pour hot maple syrup (boiled till thick) over the tops of the cream puffs. This makes an especially dainty dessert for a guest meal.

E. S.: "Have you a recipe for baked Chocolate Rice Pudding?"
Answer: Baked Chocolate Rice Pudding: Scald one cup of sweet milk, add to it one-third cup of washed rice and a pinch of salt, and cook these together until the rice is soft. Then remove from range, add one tablespoon of butter, one-half cup of sugar, one finely shaved square of chocolate, one-half teaspoon of vanilla and stir several minutes. Fold in the stiffly-whipped white of one egg and pour this mixture (which is still warm) into a bakin dish. Set the dish in a moderate oven and bake till firm—about 20 minutes.

Young Housewife: "What do you recommend for ordinary stains on the hands caused by rough housework?"

Answer: Salt dissolved in lemon juice does wonders in removing ordinary stains from the hands.

Mother: "Can you suggest an appropriate color for my high school daughter's dance dress?"

Answer: Periwinkle (that cross between lavender and blue, with just a pinkish suggestion) is youthful, dainty and "different."

Tomorrow—Four Good Pudding Recipes.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman, in care of the "Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quick reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use YOUR full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

Officers Chosen

Miss Georgina Campbell was elected president of the Girls' Friendly society of St. Mark's Episcopal church at the meeting last night at the Guild hall. Other officers elected were Miss Ethel Read, vice-president; Miss Elizabeth Stevens, secretary; Miss Esther Velch, treasurer. Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock by Mrs. E. H. Parker and Mrs. Annette Powers. Reports were heard from the officers and committees on work accomplished during the past year and plans for the new year. From the sale of Christmas cards, which was in charge of Mrs. P. E. Corey, the sum of $90.75 was reported. A rising vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Corey who assisted in disposing of orders for the cards. Miss Grace Crampton as president of the society gave a report on activities during the past year. Reports from Miss Georgina Campbell as treasurer; Miss Muriel Gambrell as secretary; Miss Leola Martin as courtesy chairman; and Mrs. Philip K. Kemp as branch president were heard. Miss Grace Crampton was elected as a delegate to the annual convention of Southern California of the Girls' Friendly society, January 30, in Los Angeles. Mrs. Kemp will also attend. The regular meeting of the society will be held next Monday night when an educational program will be presented.

Give Card Party

Plans for the benefit card party which will be given by the Y. L. I. Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock at the Knights of Columbus hall, 330 East Lomita avenue are nearing completion. Tables will be arranged for bridge and five-hundred and the dance hall, while tables for "cootie" for the younger people, will be in the billiard and living rooms of the club. Ten prizes will be awarded for winners of the games and refreshments will be a later feature. Miss Mary Margaret Chapman is chairman of the committee arranging the affair and is assisted by Miss Henrietta Meek, Mrs. Frank Clark, Mrs. Jesse E. Smith, and Miss Eva Brehme.

Plan to Install

Plans for the installation of newly-elected officers of Glendale Circle No. 85, Neighbors of Woodcraft, were made at the meeting held last night in Hahn's hall. The ceremonies will be open for anyone who desires to attend. Dagmar Smith, past guardian neighbor, will be the installing officer. Following the installation a social time with dancing will be enjoyed. Mrs. Minnie Littleton, guardian neighbor, presided at the meeting. Mrs. Ingraham of Portland, Oregon, was a visitor.

Entertainers Club

Miss Carrie Cornwell of 135 North Kenwood street will entertain members of the X. V. I. club in her home Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Christian Aid

The first meeting of the Aid society of the Central Christian church since the holidays will be held Thursday at the church, the meeting being an all day affair.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

ANSWERED LETTERS

A. Reader: Thanks for your suggestion. A chat on "carrot-headed" people will appear soon. I like them, don't you?

M. A. P.: It's so much easier to buy rouge than to make it satisfactorily that I never have given formulas. In either loose, compact or liquid form (the compact is the best way to get it) it comes in such delicate variety of shades, that you are saved hours of labor trying to imitate it. Powdered rouge is good to have around if you are making other beauty preparations, it enters into coloring face powder, making nail rouge and half a dozen other ways.

Red: The usual cause of blushing is self-consciousness, and the cure, if there is a cure, is not to mind the habit. If you don't want to blush, some simple little thing inside your brain will send the blood up to your cheeks. But if you don't mind blushing, if you think it is rather a nice habit to have (which it is, being rare nowadays) you'll probably get over it.

Miss De F.: If your hair is too oily, it isn't healthy. Use a good tonic (send for my formula, if you want it), use it, massage the scalp and continue to wash your hair often enough to keep it nice and fluffy. Oil on the forehead often comes from the oily hair lying against it. If you are 17, height five feet one, you should weigh about 115.

L. M. R.: Your weight is all right for your height, you are a few pounds above average, if you've given me your measurements correctly. As for those blonde lashes and eyebrows, there isn't a permanent dye. Whatever you use must wash off. The only permanent dye would be hair dye, and you wouldn't dare use that near the eyes. Mix up a little lamp soot with vasoline and rub this into brows and lashes. Make it so it just darkens them a trifle. Mascara, or make-up, is all you can use.

Miss Susan S.: I'm sorry I don't know the woman you mention. But if you want to reduce, that's easy. If you are eating enough now to make you fatter and fatter, eat less, you'll get thinner and thinner. You must, because the body uses up just so much nourishment every day and if it doesn't get quite enough for its daily needs, it will draw on its own superfluous flesh. You can't get fat on what you don't eat. Cut out ham, bacon, pork, fat cuts of other meats, potatoes, most bread, butter, cream, sweet desserts and candy. Or eat very little of these fattening foods.

R. E. F.: I don't think turning somersaults will reduce the hump. Rolling will though; try that. Roll across the room and back a dozen times, be sure you have no corsets on, and don't mind the remarks of your family. You should do it every day.

Fred IV.: If your nose turns red so easily, your circulation is bad. If you wear glasses that pinch that would be one reason. Otherwise you have chronic indigestion or constipation, or a stoppage in the tiny veins supplying the nose. Massage the nose vigorously night and morning, that scatters the blood to the hands to congest and thin your blood.

Reader: Perspiring hands often come from poor circulation, often from a nervous temperament. Don't ask me to explain why nerves cause the hands to break out in perspiration in this limited space, but it's so. If there are tight bands around the body, tight corsets, for instance, they will cause this condition. You can only wear loose gloves, which happen to be smart now, and powder the hands now and then with powdered boracic acid.

Beatrice M.: I don't think those corsets will harm you. You can diet, you know, to reduce, if you don't like wearing reducing corsets.

Discouraged: See answer to Fred above.

G. N. L.: You might help the shape of the nose by massaging it from top to tip, pressing with the fingers against the nostrils and bridge.

Boysish Bob: Rub olive oil or castor oil on the lashes to make them glossy and thicker.

Tomorrow—Astringent Lotions

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quick reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Save Redwoods

Tuesday Afternoon club women are actively interested in the state-wide movement to save the Redwood trees. To raise money for the Redwood Memorial Grove fund, being accumulated by the California Federation of Women's clubs, the Tuesday club is to give a benefit card party Friday night, January 16 at the clubhouse, Mrs. W. F. McPherson, chairman of conservation, is in charge of the affair. She states that bridge and five-hundred will be played, beginning at 8 o'clock. Assisting hostesses will be Mesdames Donald Baxter, John Warren Holt, Elmer Blake and W. T. Burton. Tickets can be secured from any of the club members or at the club office.

P.-T. A. Benefit

Mrs. E. H. Miller of 1004 East Raleigh street entertained yesterday afternoon with a card party, as a benefit for the Wilson Parent-Teacher association. Five tables of bridge and two tables of five-hundred were in play during the afternoon. Mrs. Thompson was awarded prize for high score in bridge and Mrs. R. H. Dromberger received first prize for five-hundred. Refreshments were served as a later feature. Mrs. Harry Jones assisted the hostess in entertaining. Mrs. W. A. Hartmann of 240 North Belmont avenue will entertain with a card party Monday, January 19. Anyone who enjoys playing cards is invited to attend.

Attend Matinee

Madrigal club members are to enjoy a theatre party Saturday afternoon at the matinee of the Dobinson Players at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. Plans for the affair were made at the club rehearsal yesterday at First Congregational church. Mrs. Charles A. Parker directed the rehearsal. Tickets were distributed for the concert, January 20, at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. Announcement is made that those desiring to become active members, communicate with Mrs. Hoffman at her home, 327 North Maryland avenue.

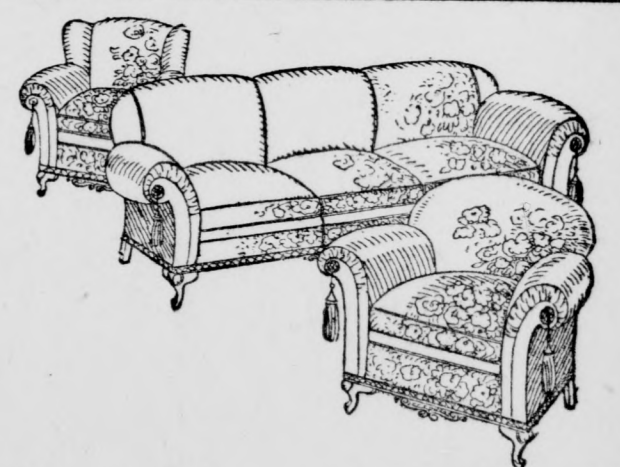

At Erling Home

Mrs. Charles Erling of 417 North Louise street will entertain members of Chapter DJ P. E. O. Wednesday with a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock. The business meeting will be held after the luncheon with Mrs. O. A. Danielson, president in charge. Mrs. J. M. Eyerick will have charge of the program.

Shrine Initiates

Initiation will be held at the meeting of Omar Shrine, White Shrine of Jerusalem Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Masonic Temple, 232 South Brand boulevard. Mrs. Warren Roberts, worthy high priestess will direct the meeting.

Griffith Park Hike Is Planned By Boy Scouts

Grand View Troop, 17, Boy Scouts will hold a meeting tonight but will hike instead to Griffith Park on Saturday. They will meet at the office of Rev. George W. Thomas, 1123 Justin avenue at 10:30 o'clock leaving there for the park. Those having bicycles will ride them and other members of the troop will accompany Rev. Thomas in his machine. Members will take their lunches and equipment to pass scout tests.

Gland Patient Withstands Severe Endurance Test

After suffering from a nervous breakdown, and being subject to dizzy spells, a man of 35 regained his health and strength through glandular treatment. As an actual test of his perfect health, this gland patient recently ran and won the one-mile and three-mile race in the annual field meet at one of California's State Institutions. Even more remarkable than his speed was the physical condition of the athlete after breasting the tape. He exhibited nothing of the distress or labored breathing of the ordinary runner. Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, prepared in tablet form provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Glandogen, for men and women, is obtainable at Ahlmann Drug Co., Brand at Harvard. Free booklets on request.—Advertisement.

FLAPPERS GET READY FOR SOUTHLAND

Wardrobes Contain All Kinds Of Clothes; Will Wear Least Possible

By AILEEN LAMONT
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The flappers of America started right in today to put their New Year's resolutions into effect. In many cases these included a resolve to get as many clothes as possible and to wear as few as the law allows. The latter determination, of course, does not apply immediately in the day (time to those who contemplate the Twin Cities' festivals, Lake Placid and Saranac, Banff or Quebec as destinations).

In their cases the blanket coat of the north country has been superseded by the waterproofed burberry fabrics of smooth weave to which snow will not cling. The voyageurs and Hudson's Bay men of the North and the Alaska Sour Doughs will get many a laugh this winter at the costumes and antics of the tourists from milder climes, of the tourists from milder climes, too, so no one will be hurt except the unsuccessful hotel keeper.

One Piece Suits

For the southland, however, the trend to more and briefer clothes will have full sway. Spanish is the only language in which to describe the Florida and California bathing suits, since that tongue is full of endearing diminutives. Most are of the one-piece type and is no unusual thing for the southland bather to take fifteen to twenty models with her. They don't take up much room. On beaches where the more conservative ideas prevail, silk, gingham or saaten tunics are carried to tone down the one-piece effects.

When the old time mariners have used to sing the old chanty "roll but up till now it has taken a custom bootmaker to fit a heel at no less than $40 a fit. Shops, however, are now making special efforts to accomplish this feat for feet from stock, as a result, it is probable that shoes in future will be numbered not only as to length and width of toe but as to slowness of heel. Merchants have finally discarded the Cinderella legend and instead of finding a foot to fit the shoe are providing shoes to fit the foot. In consequence wicked sister is doing fine.

No such difficulty is presented by the spring hats. Any hat that suits a woman will fit her, no matter what her coiffure. The newest sport hats from Paris are adorned and surrounded by an adjustable belt which enables the wearer to arrange her hair as she sees fit and still surmount it by a snug-fitting hat.

Special attention will be paid to footwear since the feet are the most conspicuous part of the anatomy. It has been discovered that women have heels as well as toes. Any shoe clerk can fit a toe but up till now it has taken a custom bootmaker to fit a heel at no less than $40 a fit. Shops, however, are now making special efforts to accomplish this feat for feet from stock, as a result, it is probable that shoes in future will be numbered not only as to length and width of toe but as to slowness of heel. Merchants have finally discarded the Cinderella legend and instead of finding a foot to fit the shoe are providing shoes to fit the foot. In consequence wicked sister is doing fine.

Large Crowds Attend Evangelistic Service

The evangelistic campaign now in progress at the First Church of the Nazarene is proving to be one of the greatest campaigns held by the Nazarene church in Glendale. Rev. Fred St. Clair, evangelist, is preaching the gospel. Three preaching services were held Sunday, the most interesting being the night service, when Rev. St. Clair preached a sermon to the young people, his topic being "A Life Choice." The campaign will close Sunday night, January 11. Services will be held each night this week with the exception of Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock. Afternoon services will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 2:15 o'clock, and the public is invited to attend.

EXPECT BUILDING BOOM.
FULTON, Jan. 6.—Building permits issued in Fulton during 1924 totaled $1,079,511, according to a report prepared by Building Inspector Grove L. Walters. Building for December totaled $55,750. The building total for the year was lower than that of 1923, but, according to Walters, it is indicated that during 1925 building will boom.

RUMOR OF RECALL.

CORONA, Jan. 6.—Dame Rumor insists that a petition is being circulated seeking to recall four of the five members of the Corona City Council. This is occasioned by the recent decision of the board in the Bradshaw-Bredlow controversy, when the latter endeavored to prefer charges against Chief Bradshaw in an effort to oust him from office. The charges fell flat and the board, by a resolution, upheld the chief in his work and dismissed the charges against him. So far the petition of recall has not come from under cover.

ROAD NOW BOULEVARD.

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 6.—A good automobile can make thirty to fifty miles an hour on the Mecca-Blythe road now without a jolt. A. C. Fulmor, county surveyor, says so. And County Surveyor Fulmor knows, for he has just returned from a trip over the road on which the state highway commission's grading crew has been at work for several weeks.

ROAD PROGRAM COMPLETED.

SANTA ANA, Jan. 6.—Adding fifty-five miles of paved and gravelled roads to its highway system, Orange county during 1924 spent $1,268,171 on building new and repairing old boulevards, according to figures issued by J. L. McBride, county superintendent of highways.

PLAN BIG EXPENDITURES.

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 6.—Approximately a million and a half dollars will be spent on good roads in Santa Barbara county, exclusive of improvements of city streets, this year, according to conservative estimates. The authorized projects include completion of the Guyama road to Bakersfield, widening of the state highway between Santa Barbara and the Ventura county line, completion of the San Marcos road, completion of the Santa Ynez valley road paving project, and the paving of the road from Lompoc to Harris Station.

SANTA MARIA, Jan. 6.—Preparation of the ground for lettuce and other planting is going forward, with the soil in excellent condition after recent rains.

AT LA CRESCENTA

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Baron attended the banquet given in honor of National Commander of the American Legion, James Drain, held in the American Legion hall in Pasadena. Mr. Baron, new commander of the Verdugo Hills Post of the American Legion No. 288, represented this district at the dinner.

La Crescanta Improvement association will hold its regular monthly meeting Thursday night, a week later than the regular date, postponement due to New Year's activities.

No solution has yet been found for the explosion New Year's eve which blew several windows from a home in the immediate vicinity of the Montrose Methodist Community church. Officials of the Gordon Harrison Rock quarries said today there had been no blasting done at their field of operations for several weeks. Several homes were jarred, the tools and stored goods in the Keller garage thrown around while the F. L. Howard home on Briggs avenue had windows broken. The blasts came at timed intervals from 11 p. m. until 3 o'clock in the morning.

Newly-elected officers of the local post of the American Legion were installed tonight with appropriate ceremonies at the home of Commander Joe Wilson of Glendale Post No. 127 had charge of the installation ceremonies.

Members of the Episcopal Guild of St. Luke of the Mountains will hold their regular monthly meeting Thursday afternoon at the new church, corner of Rosemont and Michigan avenues. Members are urged to attend. Meeting will be called at 2:30 o'clock.

La Crescanta P-T-A. Reading circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Virna Harman Walker tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Tea will be served by the hostess at noon, after which reading will be resumed till 2 o'clock, when all will adjourn to the schoolhouse where the regular monthly meeting of the P-T-A. will be called to order at 2:30 o'clock by the president, Mrs. C. W. Angier. A special feature of the afternoon's entertainment will be the film entitled "Beginning of Life," which will be preceded by an explanatory talk given by a member of the state board of health. A large attendance is desired.

Men to Have Charge Of Meeting Jan. 14

The men's division of the Women's Missionary society of the Central Christian church will present the program at the monthly open meeting of the Missionary society, to be held Wednesday, January 14, at the church. The regular meeting of the division, which was scheduled for Wednesday night, at the home of Mrs. Eva Hutton, 326 East Colorado avenue, has been postponed until the open meeting next week.

MONTROSE NOTES

MONTROSE, Jan. 6.—The "Buy a Brick" campaign for the new home of the Verdugo Hills post of the American Legion No. 288 will conclude with a vaudeville show at the Montrose theatre Friday night. Tickets are on sale at all stores throughout the valley. Dr. J. D. Utley in charge of the program has announced the following acts: Hollywood Sextette of the movie city's legion; Billy Green, well known Forty and Eighter monologue artist; Forbush and Co., will present their side-splitting rube skit with chorus of pretty girls. Up-to-date songs will enliven the clever lines of this number. Gussie Weyl will add to the fun with humorous readings; Paragon Players from Pasadena will give a one-act comedy while the honors of the valley will rest on the shoulders of George Hansen and his court of famous Egyptian dancers. Mr. Hansen will be assisted in his original skit by some clever young Girl Scouts who will do their bit for the buddies. Tickets for adults are fifty cents, children twenty-five cents.

Women of the Montrose P-T-A. will hold a cup and saucer shower at the Montrose school house on Friday afternoon when they expect each member to come with a cup and saucer and entrance fee thus furnishing the china closet which at present is likened to Mother Hubbard's kitchen. A roundtable conference will be in charge of the following women: Mesdames G. Terry, K. Frederickson, T. Salisbury and D. Weaver. The regular business meeting will be in charge of the president, Mrs. C. W. Rienhard.

A new service station is being erected at the southwest corner of Honolulu and Ocean View avenues. Mr. Dillingham will have charge of the station when completed.

Sheridan Young, hardware merchant, is adding a large room on the rear of his brick building which when completed will be used by the Durr & Son Undertaking parlors. Rev. Durr, pastor of the Montrose Community church with his son, purchased the Kiefer & Eyerick parlors in Tulunga and are starting the new branch here in the valley with headquarters at the Young hardware store.

Residents of the valley were serenaded last evening by the La Crescanta school orchestra which traversed the town in a large truck to advertise the Legion Benefit show Friday night.

Montrose Chamber of Commerce and La Crescanta Improvement association are in receipt of thanks from the Angelus Protective association for the cheques of $50 from each body for the equipment fund.

Montrose Chamber of Commerce will hold its regular monthly meeting tonight at the Montrose school house. Matters of vital importance to the community will be discussed and every one is urged to attend. Newcomers are especially invited to join the civic body. Meeting will be called to order at 8 o'clock.

HUPMOBILE EIGHT IN 4 BODY STYLES

Swanson Firm's New Model Described as Leader In Auto Field

With the first showing Saturday and yesterday of the new Hupmobile Eight at the salesrooms of H. W. Swanson Co., 228 South Brand boulevard, an addition has been made to the Hup line that is declared by auto men to be one of the greatest advances in automobile engineering in years.

H. W. Swanson Co., formerly located at 111 West Harvard street, opened the Glendale branch July 18, 1924, and just recently moved to the new quarters at 228 South Brand boulevard. H. W. Swanson came to California from Detroit, and has been in the automobile business ten years. His main office and salesrooms are at 4430 Sunset boulevard, Hollywood.

H. V. White, manager of the Glendale branch, has been in the auto business six years, and has a host of friends in Glendale. The new Hupmobile Eight, built in four body styles, roadster, touring car, four-passenger coupe and five-passenger sedan. Two years have been spent by Hup engineers in planning and building the new car, studying designs and results obtained from every leading multi-cylindered car ever placed on the market here or in Europe.

Results Claimed
The result, they say, is an eight-cylinder car, giving more smoothness of operation at all speeds, all-around reliability and economy of operation heretofore unknown to the eight-cylinder field.

Engine is the L-head type; both bore and stroke are small, bore being 2 1/4 inches and stroke 4 3/4 inches, giving a 246-inch engine displacement, from which more than 60 brake horsepower is obtained at 2700 revolutions per minute. Taxable horsepower is 26.45. Wheelbase is 113 1/4 inches, wheels equipped with six-ply cord 33x6 balloon tires specially constructed for this car, with tread a combination of rib and all-weather for greater safety and silence. All bodies are finished in Duco, upholstery in open cars is genuine hand-crushed Spanish leather and closed cars wool mohair. All models are completely equipped with the latest in accessories, hardware and trimmings that make for beauty and convenience.

Conference Secretary Will Attend Meetings

B. M. Emerson of 441 Salem street, secretary-treasurer of the Pacific Union conference of the Seventh Day Adventist denomination, leaves tonight for St. Helena on the first lap of an extended trip in the interests of conference work. Tomorrow he will attend the constituency meeting of the St. Helena sanitarium, he states, and on Thursday and Friday will be present at sessions of the Pacific Union college board of directors, at St. Helena.

From there Mr. Emerson will proceed to Lodi, thence to Oakland, and finally to Fresno, attending church officers' meetings at each city. He plans to be back in Glendale on or before January 20.

NEW YORK CLOSING
By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Speculative industrial stocks regained a good portion of their lost ground today and in some cases added a little for good measure. The best records of the day, however, were made by the railroad stocks, which, under the leadership of New York Central, Atchison, Reading, Southern Railway and Southern Pacific, were in high priced ground for most of the session. New York Central and Atchison shattered their best previous performances for a few years back, the latter, at 123 1/2, making a new high. Short lines were taken in immediately after the opening market, and little selling resulted from the impairment of margin accounts. Stocks which bore the brunt of Monday's selling and declined from five to fifteen points were unable to make up their entire losses, but active industrials which declined only a point or two made a better showing.

The market turned dull on reactions and the volume of trading in the first three hours was nearly half a million shares less than in the same period yesterday.

The movement in railroad stocks had the double stimulus of a favorable array of current earnings and another dividend increase in one of the most active common stocks on the board—Atchison. Directors of this company, at their meeting in New York today, boosted the quarterly dividend from 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 per cent, despite repeated denial by individual directors that such action was contemplated.

Nor were the railroad companies alone in raising dividends. American Smelting and Refining was placed on a 6 per cent annual dividend basis and a special dividend to stockholders of the Fajardo Sugar Co. Call money flowed into Wall street today and the official rate was lowered to 3 per cent, the lowest since December 23. Wheat prices jumped nearly 2 cents a bushel at Chicago and cotton recovered about thirty points.

Movements in the industrial and specialty stocks were somewhat mixed in the late trading. Professionals were ready to sell on profit-taking and switching to other stocks resulted in simultaneous rallies and declines in stocks equally popular as speculative mediums. Copper stocks responded to the boosting of prices of this metal to 15 1/2 cents a pound as metal shares in general reflected the advance in prices of lead and tin.

Equipment stocks rallied under the lead of Car & Foundry, which sold up to 200, for a recovery of eight points from Monday's close. Radio Corporation was comparatively quiet, but the bulk of sales was made nearly two points above the opening price of 68.

Stock sales today totaled 1,823,700 shares; bonds $15,340,000.

FINANCIAL BRIEFS

By Southland News Service

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6.—The copper industry has during the past year given evidence of considerable growth and stability in contrast to the up and down character of operations in such lines as iron and steel, according to the E. F. Hutton wires here today. Stability in the copper and brass industry is being clearly demonstrated. Commercial use of copper and its alloys is being widened daily by education of building interests and the public in general to the advantages of brass and copper in all forms of new construction.

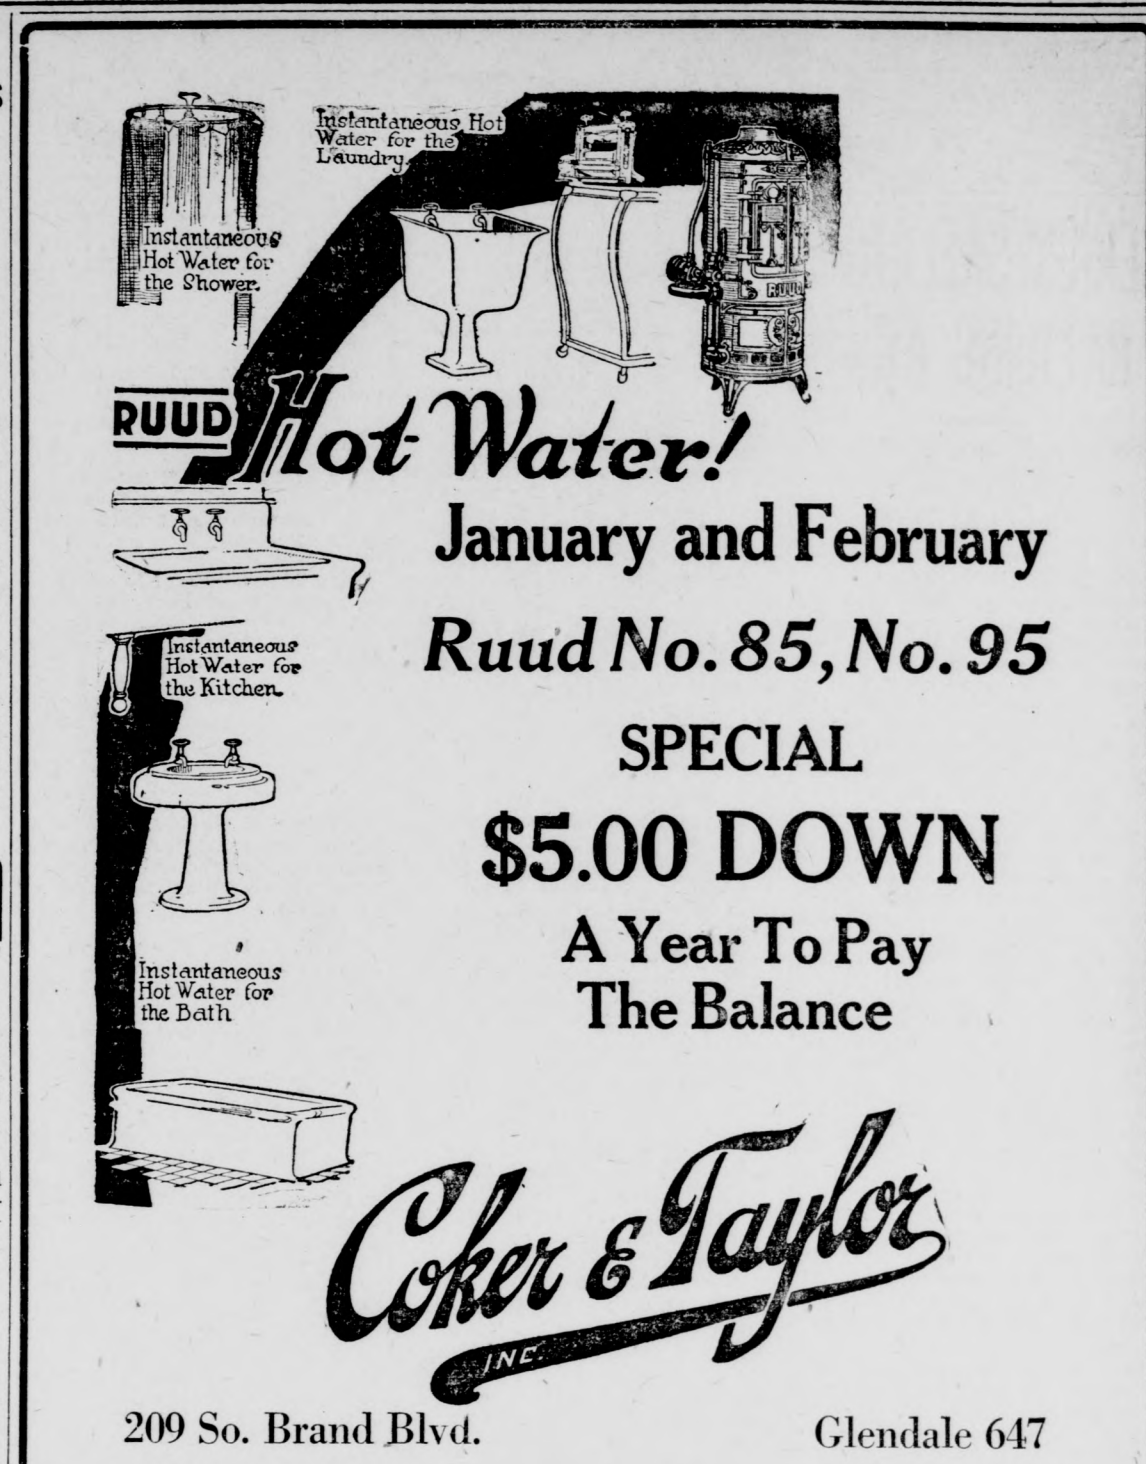

This campaign, conducted by the Anaconda interests has tremendously expanded the use of copper and its products during the past several years. The American Brass company this year will dispose of an output of brass pipe ten times larger than the company ever turned out in the biggest pre-war year.

CHICAGO WHEAT

BURBANK NEWS
BURBANK, Jan. 6.—The claims of this city as the ideal location for the U. of C. Southern Branch, were presented this afternoon in the offices of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, before the site committee, comprising heads of many leading civic organizations.

Great advantages would accrue to Burbank, should this university branch be brought here, in the opinion of Manager J. W. Charleville of the local Chamber of Commerce. It has been estimated by the schools and colleges committee, he states, that ten thousand families will come to the community in which the university is established. If only 10 per cent of this number buy homes, millions of dollars would be recorded in real estate transfers, while, besides this, there would be the vast amount of buying which the students and families would do, according to Mr. Charleville, there being several thousand students enrolled in the branch as it is now established in Los Angeles.

The Burbank Chamber of Commerce committee working on the project numbers: R. O. Church, chairman; C. B. Fischer, J. C. Crawford, W. A. Blachard, C. W. Anderson, E. J. Jackson, Grove Ketcham, Ben Marks, Dr. David Thomson and J. D. Radcliff.

The question of annexing the local school district to Los Angeles was raised at a meeting held last night at the Baptist church. C. H. Kline championed annexation, while W. P. Coffman argued for retaining the present district.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Deacon of San Fernando boulevard have just returned from a week's visit with W. E. Shelly of Delano, California.

Police Lieutenant Has Talented Young Niece
Detective Lieutenant W. J. Royle of the Glendale police department is very proud of his little niece, Constance, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Ford of Ogden, Utah. Though only 4 years old, she is a talented musician and during the Christmas holidays played two violin numbers before a large audience, wrote her mother, who is Lieutenant Royle's sister.

Later in the afternoon, before the same audience, Constance played a piano accompaniment for her father, who rendered a violin solo. She comes from a musical family, as both Mr. and Mrs. Wood are talented along this line. Her father is a band and symphony orchestra leader, Lieutenant Royle explains, and that is why the little girl is able to do such remarkable work for her age.

Oratorio Members to Hear Concert Tonight
Countless music lovers from Los Angeles are coming to Glendale tonight for the Gauthier concert at Tuesday afternoon clubhouse. Mr. and Mrs. John Smallman and thirty members of the Los Angeles Oratorio society will compose one party. Miss Myrtle Baldwin is to have as her guest Kathleen Lockhart Manning, operatic soprano. A party of Los Angeles people will be entertained by Mrs. Jack Gardner (Louise Dresser).

Following the program, Miss Gauthier will share in the honors at the reception arranged by the Glendale Music club to honor the president, Mrs. Mattison Boyd Jones. With Miss Gauthier and Mrs. Jones, officers of the club will make up the receiving line.

Mrs. Colin Cable, hospitality chairman, will preside over the punch table. Mrs. Charles Marlenee, chairman of courtesy, has charge of the ushers for the concert.

SERIES' SKELETON RATTLING AGAIN

George Kelly and Sam Bohne In Limelight as They Try to Join Team

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The O'Connell-Dolan skeleton in baseball's closet was playing castanets with its knee caps today as a result of the action of George Kelly and Sam Bohne, of the Giants and Reds, respectively, in attempting to team up with the discredited Jimmy O'Connell on the Pacific coast basketball team.

The action indicated that all is not as it seems in Denmark and crystallized sentiment in favor of Judge Landis making public the complete testimony in baseball's latest scandal, something he has declined to do.

Several minor leaguers were involved in the venture but that is of slight consequence. Neither is the fact that an attempt was made to evade the issue by having Kelly and O'Connell play alternate games nor that O'Connell was subsequently let out by the coast management in order to save Kelly further embarrassment.

Public Skeptical
The thing that has smote the public right between the eyebrows, is that Kelly was one of three players absolved of complicity in the O'Connell business and that some fifteen months ago Bohne was called upon the carpet to explain a story that appeared in a Chicago publication, charging him with attempted game juggling at the behest of gamblers. Pat Duncan also was involved in the charges. He has been waived out of the major leagues in the last month or so, for reasons not altogether clear.

These are the men who planned to identify themselves with what John A. Heyder terms a "self-confessed fakir." If John has his way, both will suffer suspension, even though it was only the spirit and not the letter of baseball's dignity that was flouted. But the end is not yet.

BOWLING SCORES

Splitting wood in the final frame of the third game, the Rogers Barber Shop team won game and match from the Pullman Cafe bowlers last night at Recreation Center alleys in a Foothill league match. The outcome was in doubt until the anchor men on each team rolled. The barbers took the first game by a safe margin, were swamped in the second, but came back strong in the third. More of the losers rolled high score with 225 in the opening game, although Slay of the winners held high total—220, 194, 222—636. The score:

RINGSIDE GOSSIP FAIR PLAY

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Now that Danny Kramer has failed in his ambition to win the featherweight title he will probably build himself up as a contender for the lightweight crown. It took a good deal of straining on Kramer's part to enter the ring at the stipulated poundage for the featherweight division and it looked Friday night as though in getting down to weight he was weakened. If so, he took a poor time to be weak, for this kid Kaplan is an earnest young battler who can sock right merrily.

What Kramer will probably do now will be to carry out his intentions of going after Sid Terris and other lightweights leading up to Benny Leonard. Had he won the featherweight crown he would have done this and there is no reason why he should not do it now. It will be interesting to see whether at an increased weight he will be better than he was on Friday night at the garden. Probably he will, because it certainly looked as though his effort to make the weight had affected both his stamina and his hitting power.

Kaplan on the other hand, was certainly entitled to the verdict and as featherweight champions have gone of late he was as good as any. He will never set the world on fire and the first man possessing real championship timber that comes along is likely to knock him off.

For the first time in the history of the Court of Criminal Appeal in London, a woman barrister recently appeared and successfully defended her client, a woman freed from two men that had been convicted.

They're Trading Material

Two or three years ago Louis Fonseca and Jimmy Caveney joined the Cincinnati Reds, young stars from the minors, destined to fill "gaping holes" in the Cincinnati infield. Now they are being used by the Red bosses as trading material in the hope of strengthening the team, which still lacks the fire wanted.

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Arthur Fletcher, manager of the Philadelphia Nationals, is willing to trade Cy Williams, the home run hitter and one of the best batters of the National league—if there is a player as good as Williams to be had in exchange for him.

Fletcher said he was willing to trade Williams for Jack Smith of the St. Louis Nationals when the subject was broached in a conversation here, but that possibility got nowhere. Still Fletcher is anxious to add some speed to the Phillies, and he feels that he can afford to take it on, even at the expense of losing a long distance ball hitter like Williams.

The big outfielder of the Phillies has been a fixture in the Quaker City for a long time, and many is the hit that he has swatted into the right field fence. Many others have he batted over that fence, and the kids long have made a practice of hanging around North Broad street waiting to chase one of them and earn an admittance to the field. Williams has hit two or three long ones down into the right center corner of the Philadelphia grounds that probably are the record hits of the park.

The Philadelphia outfit is one that can stand all the strength and speed that Fletcher can find for it. He has put on some kids with whom he hopes to get more speed from his infield and if he can get some one in the outfield who can run, cover a lot of ground, and generally wake things up, he figures that he can afford to let Williams go, although he will have a hard time finding as much batting strength in any one individual as he has in Williams, who made his big reputation by force coming to the big leagues, at Notre Dame, Chicago was the first to grab him.

Last season he batted .325 and hit out twenty-four home runs. There are very few players able to do that, so the Phillies, if they trade him, will need to get hold of some one who will plug a hole in their team especially in batting strength.

If Eddie Collins has his way with the White Sox, there will be a change which will give him a sure shortstop. Collins has been told by others and undoubtedly thinks himself, that if he can get a man for short who will match up with himself and Kamm, the Sox will have a chance for the championship.

Despite the fact that they finished last in 1924, a good shortstop and a couple of winning pitchers would go a long way toward putting them in the race.

The Sox outfield should do its share to keep the team in the fight as it is, and the infield, by one change, could be turned into one of the fastest in baseball. Comiskey is full of pennant ambitions and he will be willing to make any changes that will put the Sox back in the first division and make them contenders in the race. The Old Roman says he will finish baseball with another championship, and if he wins that he probably go after another with as much zest, for he is a hound for championships once the fever seizes him.

START BASEBALL AT HIGH SCHOOL

Coach Wolfe Calls for Men; First Practice Is Set For Next Week

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, Jr.
Of The Evening News Staff.
Once again the season for the national pastime rolls around and if lengthy practice means anything the Dynamiters are going to be quite the thing in Central league baseball. Coach Eugene Wolfe, who coached the Glendale Firecrackers to a Southern California championship in the Class C football section, has been given the reins over the pelota tossers and plans to start practice next week.

It is a well known fact that last year's nine was a fluke, but this season it may be necessary to copy the baseball pennant to be in line for the Central league all-around cup and the Dynamiters will certainly be in shape for the loop schedule which does not start until the first of April.

Wolfe is fortunate in having a number of last year's lettermen back for the 1925 team. Charley Smith, who was the pitching ace last season, has kept in shape by playing winter ball, and is considered a classy high-school twirler. Charley was a freshman last year, by the time he is a senior he will be invincible.

Issues Call
Red Smith, outfielder, Johnny Lovell, shortstop, Bud Elliott, outfielder, Elmer Muff, second-sacker, and Bill Brooke, utility slabsman and outfielder are other lettermen back. Although both Lovell and Muff will probably be engaged in basketball they will be able to round into shape by the time the schedule opens and will form a flashy high-school combination.

Bud Elliott and Smith are good steady gardeners and will give Coach Wolfe something to build around. Practically any position is open to a good player and Wolfe issues a call for material of any kind.

The big problem will be in filling the positions of first and third bases, and catcher. Alvey Lovell who handled the slants on last year's scrub team will give anyone a run for the backstop berth, reports Coach Wolfe. Elmer is also an able man behind the plate, with both Muff and Lovell the backstop solution is practically solved.

However, the other two vacancies are going to be a tough task to fill. Scarcely any material whatsoever is available and those two places threaten to be the glaring weak spots of the 1925 team. Coach Wolfe plans to start work on the diamond right away. George Laas, who lugged the clubs last year, will be back again as official bat-boy.

Cornhusker May Join Seattle Coast Club

BEATRICE, Neb., Jan. 6.—A bid from the Seattle club of the Coast league was under consideration today by Elbert Bloodgood, 1924 varsity quarterback of the University of Nebraska football team.

CASABA TOSSERS GET INTO SHAPE

Dynamiters Play Alhambra In Opening Game Here On January 16

With Glendale's brilliant football season a thing of the past, the coaching staff is striving to round the Dynamiters into shape so that Glendale's basketball season will be another banner winner.

Coach "Jumbo" Pierce, who has been given the reins over the heavyweight casaba tossers, is working hard building up the team around three letter men. Those back from last year are: Louis Dotson, forward; Francis Hardey, star forward and captain, and Cecil Zann, guard, and next year's gridiron captain.

As basketball is a game requiring the best of teamwork, Pierce's problem is no joke. To fill up the empty spots and make the team into a well-oiled machine will be a real task in so short a period. Practice has been going on just a week now and there are only seven more days of practice before the first game, with Alhambra, which will be one of the hardest of the schedule.

Members of Squad
Francis Hardey is working as hard as ever and has his forward position practically clinched. Bill "Fuzz" Bradbury, who did some nice line playing and punting for Glendale's football team, and Louis Dotson are fighting it out for the other forward berth. Both men have the weight and speed and should fit into a flashy forward trio. Ervin Jensen, Harold Falter, Marion Morrison and Raber Beaman are out for center. None have had much previous basketball experience. Cecil Zann is fairly sure of one guard position, while Carl Denney and Johnny Hiedman are foremost among those out for the other guard.

Others on the basketball squad are: Droopy Phillips, football all-around man; Paul Arbogast, substitute backfield man; Bud Elliott, star quarterback; Dick Ryan, stellar half; Porter Thompson, flashy lightweight and substitute heavyweight back; Ellsworth De Pareo, end; Dixon Fannon, guard; Red Stearnman, letterman on last year's lightweight basketball team; Roland Hodder, Jack Booker, substitute heavyweight back; Harry Fish and John Moulder.

Coach Howard L. Butterfield, who is coaching the 130-pounders, reports that he anticipates an excellent season for his proteges. Archie Neel, Elmer Muff, Johnny Lovell, Jack Alvord and Wilbur Harrison are on Butterfield's first quintet and are showing up in fine form. The first four named are lettermen. Butterfield has also three other fives from which he will single out substitute and second-string material.

Coach Harry Hicks is drilling the class C bunch and already thirty-five have turned out for practice. Several members of the 1924 Firecrackers who won the Southern California championship in their class are out for the class C hoop team. Of these, Jerry Osler and Monte Killinger are showing up well and will probably be listed in the first squad before long.

FLYING FINN WAITS STARTER'S PISTOL

Olympic Marvel to Face Best This Side of Atlantic In Garden Tonight

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Paavo Nurmi, possessing the finest set of running legs in the history of athletics, will display his flying shanks before the American public for the first time tonight at Madison Square Garden in what has been termed the "race of the century." Just what race is referred to is not made clear. Nurmi will go to the post in two races, a mile and 5000-meter event, and in each, he will take on the greatest runner this side of the Atlantic.

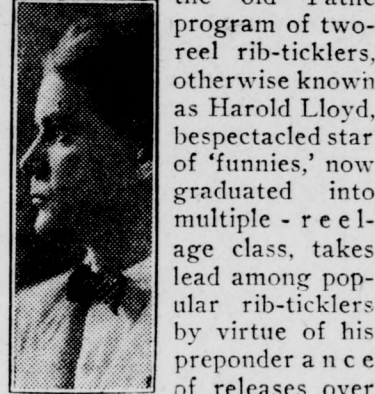

He will be a lone Finn against the flower of America's athletic contingent, yet the man who won four races at the Paris Olympics will have the crowd with him. He will find Willie Ritola, a fellow countryman, waiting for the gun in the 5000-meter race, but not with the extended hand of friendship.

Crowley Recovering In Bay City Hospital

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—James Crowley, star backfield man of Notre Dame's famous "four horsemen," who is in the St. Francis hospital here suffering from a collapse as a result of the Stanford-Notre Dame football game at Pasadena New Year's day, is progressing "favorably" today and will probably be able to follow his teammates back to South Bend, Ind., by the end of the week, physicians at the hospital reported this morning. The rest of the squad departed for Indiana yesterday after a two days' entertainment period at the hands of enthusiastic San Francisco gridiron fans.

SPORTDOM ALL OVER

By JOSEPH L. KELLEY
Of The Evening News Staff.
Continuing Ye Ed's All-American movie teams—the one-time 'Lonesome Luke' on the old Pathe program of two-reel rib-ticklers, otherwise known as Harold Lloyd, bespectacled star of 'funnies,' now graduated into multiple-reelage class, takes lead among popular rib-ticklers by virtue of his preponderance of releases over

Harold was the first pie-throwing, slapstick comedian to draw a happy medium between the custard-pie type of comedy and the 'straight' stuff he now does. His 'Grandma's Boy' stands head and shoulders over anything he ever has done (a 1923 release). It's a toss-up between 'Safety First' and 'Hot Water' for his 1924 crop—all depending upon your 'complex' for thrills or plain comedy.

This doesn't mean that Ye Ed thinks Lloyd ahead of Chaplin. Chaplin is the one and only great artist on the screen today, with Jackie Coogan, in comparison to his years, running Chaplin a close second. Young Coogan is an artist, second to none on the screen excepting Chaplin. Now you experts howl.

Chaplin has yet to do his best work. When Charlie decides to do tragedy or an approach to tragedy, mingling with it his comedy touches, then will the 'fourth largest industry' experience a real, undiluted, and unadulterated touch of art in the movies.

Chaplin's appreciation of pathos, his tragic vein, his understanding of the sympathetic, always predominates his comedies. When Chaplin descends to the depths of the seemingly ridiculous he is the great tragedian—not the great comedian. He's a tragedian first, a comedian, only because of his innate artistry.

Tom Mix makes more money than Chaplin; so does Harold Lloyd. Although Chaplin has the reputation of being a tight-fistedness never is placed above his art. Witness more than a year's preparation and production on his Alaskan picture. It isn't finished yet. He spent a year or more on his 'Woman of Paris,' a work of art still standing as a target for the Laskys, De Milles and Lubvichs and millions they represent to shoot at.

So much for Charlie. We're going to get the Ha! Ha! now for putting Lloyd Hamilton, of 'Ham and Bud' fame and Charley Murray, a 'fixture' on the Mack Bennett 'lot' when the firemen companies were doing their stuff and Marie Prevost, Betty Compson, Gloria Swanson and Mabel Normand were posing before the Seneca cameras in one-piece—fast steppers in 'funnies.' Hamilton and Murray are real comedians. Ben Turpin is funny because the Lord made him so.

We said yesterday Constance Talmadge leads all 1924 candidates for first honors as comedienne. We still say so, after sleeping eight hours over decision. But Constance shines only in farce comedy. Once upon a time she did slapstick in support of John Bunny. Harry Beaumont who directed Jack Barrymore in 'Beau Brummel' was a slapstick artist at the same time and with the same company.

The comedienne who can give Constance cards and spades and then beat her to it as a screen comedienne is Mabel Normand. Mabel Normand is the screen's female Chaplin. She is one of the few comedienne who can give to the most ordinary incident a comedy touch. Mabel doesn't need a high-salaried 'zag' man to put her over. Her idea of comedy is so far ahead of the average 'gag' man's idea that comparison would be odious.

It seems to be a regular duty of the expert who picks the 'best' in the movies to purposely ignore those hundreds of good actors who support the stars. Have you ever noticed how many of these 'supporting' members often step in and 'steal' a picture from the star?

If you haven't, watch the work of Lucien Littlefield as a fine example or an artist of so-called 'supporting cast' class. Fans usually find Mr. Littlefield in a character role. His latest work will be given fans when screen version of 'Charlie's Aunt' is released.

We recall one picture in which Littlefield did some fine work. We don't remember the title. It was produced and directed by Finis Fox, ex-scenarist writer who starred Mae Busch. 'Women Who Sin' sounds like the title of picture to which we refer. Alec Francis is another star supporting member deserv-

CITY WILL HONOR FOOTBALL TEAMS

Banquet Tonight Given by Chamber of Commerce And Service Clubs

Members of Glendale's three high school football teams, all winners in their division and two of them champions of Southern California, will be honored tonight at a banquet to be tendered the grid warriors by the Chamber of Commerce and the various service organizations of the city. The banquet will be held at the Central Christian church, Louise and Colorado streets, and will start at 6 o'clock.

Elmer C. Henderson, coach of U. S. C., known in the football world as "Gloomy Gus," will be the principal speaker. An effort is being made to induce Knute Rockne, mentor of the famous Fighting Irish squad, to attend and make a brief address.

D. H. Smith, president of the Chamber of Commerce, will preside. The various service clubs will be grouped at separate tables, while the three football teams will occupy the places of honor. An orchestra from the high school will furnish music.

Following the invocation by Rev. Clifford A. Cole, Coach Eugene Wolfe of the class C team will be introduced. He will introduce Captain "Monte" Killinger and the other members of the team. Coaches Hicks and Butterfield of the class B team will make short addresses, with a response by Captain Roland Reed, and the members of the team will be introduced. Coaches Hayhurst and Pierce will present the members of class A team, and brief talks will be made by Captain Dick Ryan and Captain-elect Cecil Zann.

George Karr, representing the Chamber of Commerce, and Mayor Spencer Robinson, representing the City Council, will speak on "Why We Honor Our Football Teams." George U. Moyse and Albert Pearce, representing the school board, will respond.

Several stunts will be presented by the members of the team. George Lyons, who is in charge of the banquet, reports nearly 300 reservations have been made. The dinner will be served by the members of the Women's Union of the church.

Walter Johnson Back In Home at Reno, Nev.

RENO, Nev., Jan. 6.—Walter Johnson, famous American league pitcher, was back at his home here today following his brief trip to California, where he tried unsuccessfully to purchase the Oakland club of the Pacific Coast league. He declared that he would keep on trying to buy a western ball club.

"I realize that my playing days are about at the end of the string," Johnson said, "and when I leave the Washington club I want to stay out here in the west."

The great ballplayer added that for the present his plans were indefinite. It is understood, however, that Johnson is still thinking over a reported offer made him by the Washington Senators which he characterized late last week as "too good to be turned down without full consideration."

A seventeen-year-old mechanic of East London, England, has invented a "mother's alarm" that rings whenever the baby cries.

ing mention as are George Fawcett and the grand old man of the screen Uncle Theodore Roberts.

Among the likely prospects in beginners' class on the screen this little Mary Brian, in 'Peter Pan' seems to make strongest bid for honors.

The outstanding 'flop' of the Old Year was Glenn Hunter of 'Merton of Movies' fame on both stage and screen. Hunter gets over on stage but on screen he's our idea of no entertainment. His work in and Homer Croy's story of 'West of the Water Tower' was worst of year.

Conway Tearle takes all medals for champion 'poser' before the camera. Rudolph Valentino, leads the 'sheiks.' Rudolph wants to state this fellow Ricardo Cortez or he'll just naturally steal some of his (Ruddy's) thunder.

Dick Barthelmess is way in front of all other juvenile stars. Robbie Agnew takes lead among juveniles in support. Colleen Moore swings to front in flapper class. Little Mary Philbin although she likes to be known as a star, is really a good ingenue support. She leads curly haired division of ingenues.

Tomorrow we'll give you our 'All-Movie' bunch of directors and producers.

Ye Ed got mixed on one detail in his 'All-American' movie selections in this column yesterday. Universal's 'Hunchback' got tangled with Universal's 'Merry-Go-Round.' Wallace Worley directed 'Hunchback.' Von Stroheim and Julian Toole turns directing 'Merry-Go-Round.' Which change still makes 'Hunchback' one of 'best ten.' 'Merry-Go-Round' also is squeezed in list. No casualties.

Movie Star To Launch Novel 'House Warming'

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 6.—A planting party in Helene Chadwick's garden in which various stars of the screen will participate is the novel event being planned by Miss Chadwick.

In the rear of her new home in Beverly Hills there is being laid out a large flower garden. Instead of holding a "housewarming" or "shower" in her new home, Miss Chadwick will give a "flower planting party" at which her professional friends will be invited to plant a tree, bush or vine. Overalls, spades and watering cans will be at the disposal of the stars. Each plant will carry a silver band containing the name of the player who sponsored it. On future occasions parties will be held when the stars will take care of their horticultural offerings. On such occasions prizes will be awarded by Miss Chadwick for the best plants and flowers.

Iowa State Treasurer Made Scandal Target

DES MOINES, Iowa, Jan. 6.—Following the closing of several of Des Moines banks recently the Iowa state council has passed a resolution to institute suit against W. J. Burbank, outgoing state treasurer, for the recovery of nearly a million dollars of state funds. Burbank, it is alleged, failed to account for these funds to R. E. Johnston, the new state treasurer. It is charged that Burbank did not have adequate securities on his bonds executed by various personal friends and surety companies.

LEONARD VS. WALKER

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6.—Negotiations for a Benny Leonard-Mickey Walker bout in Los Angeles have been opened by Jack Doyle, Vernon promoter, it was learned today. Doyle also is planning the construction of a new open-air arena, seating 50,000.

FRANCE SEEKS MORATORIUM ON DEBT

Asks For More Leniency On Payment Of Nation's War Obligations

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1923

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Although no official comment is being made in Paris or Washington on the controversy over the French debt, there's no doubt that very little has been accomplished to ease the situation.

The memorandum handed Ambassador Herrick by the French minister of finance, M. Clementel, is simply a technical defence, namely that France officially says she will pay her debts to America, but wants leniency.

The suggestion by M. Clementel that there be a ten-year moratorium in payments and that a ten-year period be granted for refunding, as referred to in Paris dispatches, is not looked upon as a serious proposition. Congress is not in the mood to postpone anything that long. The British sixty-two year refunding proposal was accompanied by a good rate of interest or it would not have been accepted.

Want Money Most

What interests Congress and the American government is some concrete proposal that will mean money in the treasury. Thus far no such proposal has been made. France may suggest the sending of another commission to America to discuss the problem, but even on this French opinion is said to be divided for unless such a commission has authority to negotiate anything may lead to a painful impression on this side of the Atlantic. Those in France who sincerely believe France can not pay do not care to see a commission go forth simply to make a gesture.

What causes so much disappointment here is that France has not shown the slightest sign of modifying her attitude and though the newspapers of the last ten days have been filled with statements and comments from Paris and Washington, the truth is not a single step forward has been taken since the February day in 1922 when Louis Loucheur, former minister of finance, started the world by his frank statement that France not only could not pay her debt then but never could.

Gives Interview

His remarks were denied as official by the French government, but they were looked upon nevertheless as reflecting the opinion of most of the French statesmen. It is interesting to republish a paragraph from Loucheur's interview which was obtained by Frank R. Kent of the Baltimore Sun:

"The chief thing of which I am afraid," said M. Loucheur, "is that there may be misunderstanding of the elemental facts in Europe by America. You ask us to pay our war debts. We can not pay. We can not pay now and we can not pay ever. No clear headed man with a real knowledge of financial facts has the remotest idea that we can ever pay. The only possible way in which we ever could pay is in our goods and you will not take our goods. We can not pay in our currency. You won't take that. You demand gold and you have all the gold in the world in your own vaults. And now you prepare to erect a tariff wall around your country that will still more completely bar out our goods. How utterly illogical and inconsistent is the American attitude."

There is a hint in the foregoing of what may be expected when the debt controversy gets down to brass tacks. France may officially say she will pay, but how? Europe has felt all along that the only way to pay would be in goods and that the tariff wall on this side of the Atlantic would some day be lowered. The tariff controversy has a set of circumstances all its own and the mention of a lower tariff strikes fear into the hearts of some American industries.

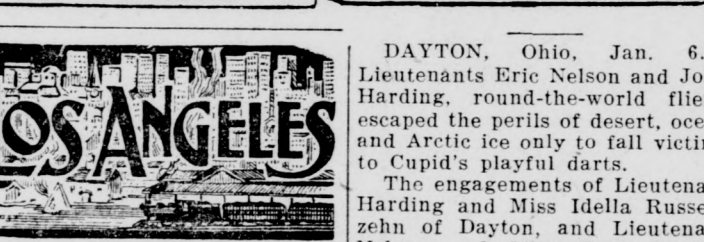

Up to America

The controversy has not yet reached where a better tariff for European imports may be expected. Not only France, but the countries to which France supplies goods are affected by any change in tariffs in the United States and under the present administration the chances of a reduced tariff are not considered good. A revision of the tariff has been demanded, on the one hand, by many spokesmen of the agricultural west and while Europe might not be justified in expecting any return to the policies of the Democratic administration, any reduction would be regarded as a step in the direction of European reconstruction.

For the moment, the matter rests on the question: Will France not only say she will pay but make a definite move that will show her intention? When she shows a willingness to pay, will the American funding commission give France "lenient" terms? The fact that France has been fit to explain to the American ambassador that she does not mean repudiation is the beginning of what officials here hope will be a series of moves that will make possible a funding of the French debt over a period of years. But today France has not yet given any indication that she intends to make a debt settlement.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6.—Transportation surveys now being completed for Los Angeles city and county governments by Major R. F. Kelker, Jr., and Charles E. DeLeuw of Chicago are expected to be filed with the city council and county supervisors within ten days according to DeLeuw today. The engineers will recommend subways, elevated lines, street car and motor bus extensions to handle an estimated population of 2,200,000 in the urban district within a radius of eight miles of Pershing Square.

More than 474,000 positions were found for jobs during the past year by the seasonal bureaus of the labor commission according to a report filed today by Labor Commissioner Mathewson.

The City Council expected to consider today the recommendation of the board of public utilities that a franchise be sold for the installation and operation of an automatic passenger conveyor through a subway to be constructed under the roadway of the second street tunnel.

A. D. MacDonald, vice-president of the Southern Pacific Co., with headquarters in New York, said today that 1925 will be a big year for American business and for California. Accompanied by his family he is making his usual inspection of the Southern Pacific properties. He will return east late today.

One of the worst automobile jams the Hollywood police have ever experienced had to be considered with late yesterday when thousands of automobiles making their way back to the city from Ventura boulevard poured into Hollywood by way of Cahuega and Highland avenues. For two hours the situation was almost unmanageable, and more than a score of police, some on motorcycles, was dispatched to untangle the troublesome maze.

George McGinnis is a poor name as far as box office attractions go. So he has been given permission by Superior Judge Valentine to change it to Kenneth McDonald. McGinnis is a motion picture actor by profession, but he has found it impossible to get work under that name, he told the court. Producers didn't believe "McGinnis" would get by the box office.

Early morning traffic was tied up in Spring street for more than half an hour today when two heavy trucks operated by the contractor who has under construction an addition to the Trust & Savings building at Sixth and Spring were stalled crossways of the street. Street cars were stalled for more than four blocks.

Irving V. Augur, president and "John Doe, one to fifty" directors of the Mutual Oil association were named defendants in a suit for $400,000 filed yesterday in superior court, charging failure to complete a contract in the leasing of two oil wells in the Long Beach fields.

The finance committee of the City Council yesterday heard the request of Police Chief Heath for 400 more men for the police department. Heath requested that the council designate these special men as traffic officers at a flat salary of $100 per month.

DROP FOOTBALL GAME

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6.—Plans for a University of Pennsylvania football game next fall have been abandoned, the Los Angeles university officials said today. The easterners offered the Trojans a game in the east this fall, but would not agree to a return engagement here in 1926, it was said.

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, Jan. 6.—The big banquet of Eagle Rock realtors, scheduled for Thursday night, January 8, has been postponed to Thursday night, January 22. It is announced, in order that those members who wish may attend the convention of the National association of Real Estate boards in Dallas, Tex., January 17.

If sufficient interest is shown in the plan, the Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce will order a stock of booster plates with the words "Eagle Rock" thereon, which may be attached to the automobiles of residents of this city, underneath the new license plates, announces Mrs. J. C. Reiter, secretary. It is thought that many citizens will be glad to avail themselves of this opportunity to secure the plates, which, she says, will be disposed of at cost.

That Highland Park is afraid Eagle Rock will "steal her stuff," is evidenced in a recent issue of a bi-weekly of the former section. The editorial opens with a plea for harmony and co-operation, then says: "Steadily, because of reasons best known by the powers at City Hall, Highland Park's interests are being sacrificed to Eagle Rock. There are some suspiciously inclined persons who might go so far as to say that considerable favoritism is being shown Eagle Rock because of personal causes existing in the city government. It might even be deduced that among the powers that be are some who shut their eyes to the wants and needs of our section of the city, but who open them widely to the demands of our neighbor."

President C. W. Young of the Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce denies that this section is receiving any benefits from the mother city of Los Angeles that rightfully belong to her older daughter, Highland Park.

Kranz Pupils to Give Recital on Thursday

Julius Kranz, talented Glendale violinist and teacher, is to present a group of his pupils in recital Thursday night, January 8, in the recital hall of the Glendale Music Co., 113 South Brand boulevard. Those taking part in the program will be Carl Maldewin, Erma Houghton, William Sherwin, Marjorie Sims, Robert Frary, Walter Earl Rohwedder, Adaline Shirer, Clara Blatt, Irving Licht, Jesse Brown, Anna Randall, Evelyn Flaver, Allan Kramer, Mary Ann Fleming.

St. Paul Expects To Set Building Records

ST. PAUL, Jan. 6.—The home building program of this year is expected to be the largest in the history of St. Paul. General growth demands a considerable expansion and this will be augmented when the Ford plant employing 3,500 workers goes into commission July 1. About 600 permits for houses and apartment buildings have been issued in the last ninety days. These brought the permit valuation of 1924 building to $21,000,000.

LEGION WOMEN TO INSTALL OFFICERS

American Auxiliary Reports On Xmas Cheer Sent Sawtelle Vets

Plans for the installation of officers of American Legion Auxiliary were made at the meeting held last night in the home of Mrs. G. H. Rowe, 216 South Orange street. Mrs. Nellie Snow Hyer, first vice-president, presided in the absence of Mrs. E. W. Gililand, president. Mrs. Carol Marks of Los Angeles, past state Auxiliary president and a national Auxiliary officer will be the installing officer.

Mrs. George L. Kaeding reported on the Christmas work in which the Auxiliary co-operated with other Glendale organizations. Mrs. Kaeding said baskets were given to 411 ex-service men, ten nurses and eleven internes at Sawtelle on Christmas.

Plans for a clothes shower for the County Council Service bureau were discussed and new clothing will be furnished by the Auxiliaries. A dance which will be given at Long Beach Saturday night by the Long Beach Legion was announced. The dance is being given to start a fund to defray the expenses of the Legion and Auxiliary to the state convention at Catalina Island next August.

Membership Drive
Mrs. Charles Nagle was appointed to co-operate with the American Legion in the membership drive which is being planned. Mrs. E. A. Baron, member of the local Auxiliary and whose husband is commander of Verdugo Hills Post No. 288, American Legion at La Crescenta, sold several bricks at the meeting, the money being used for the building fund for the erection of a clubhouse at La Crescenta.

An impromptu program was presented by the members and included a reading by Mrs. G. Edwin Murphy, with Mrs. Charles Nagle playing the accompaniment, solos by Mrs. George L. Kaeding and piano selections by Mrs. E. A. Baron and Mrs. Charles Nagle. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Rowe at the close of the meeting.

ASK NEW TRAFFIC RULES FOR CITY

Commission Invites Expert
On Problem to Address
Mass Meeting

In an effort to induce the city of Glendale to adopt the new traffic ordinance recently worked out in Los Angeles and designed to become universally used throughout Southern California, Miller McClintock, traffic expert now in the employ of the Los Angeles traffic commission, will address a gathering of representatives of leading Glendale organizations next Monday at noon. An invitation to Mr. McClintock to come to Glendale was extended by the Glendale Citizens' Traffic commission at its meeting today at noon at the Egyptian Village cafe.

James E. Larson, traffic consultant of Los Angeles and Clarence T. Sneathen, executive secretary of the Los Angeles Traffic commission, spoke in behalf of the new ordinance at the meeting. Members of the City Council, city manager, chief of police, Chamber of Commerce officials, representatives of the service clubs, the City Planning commission and others will be invited to attend the meeting next Monday, which will also be at the Egyptian Village cafe. M. Walters presided at the traffic commission meeting today.

Stokes Divorce Again Takes Court Spotlight

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Hearing of the conspiracy charges brought by Mrs. Helen Stokes against her divorced husband, W. E. D. Stokes, New York millionaire, will come up in Judge Lynch's court here January 12. This date was decided today when the case came up before Judge Lynch on a continuance. The charges of Mrs. Stokes are an outgrowth of testimony in divorce proceedings heard in New York.

Great Northern Railway In Western Fruit Deal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The Great Northern railroad asked the Interstate Commerce commission today for authority to guarantee the payment of $1,980,000 of equipment trust certificates to be issued by the Western Fruit Express company. The proceeds from their sale will be used in the purchase and rebuilding of 1300 refrigerator cars.

Fullerton Postoffice Placed In First Class

FULLERTON, Jan. 6.—The Fullerton postoffice was made a first class office on January 1, according to an announcement by W. M. Irwin, postmaster. More help will be secured and the efficiency of the present force increased.

Sugar Prices Take Another Market Drop

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6. Following up their recent cut in sugar prices of 35 cents per hundredweight, San Francisco sugar refineries today announced further reduction of 25 cents per hundred pounds, bringing the basic price for Hawaiian cane granulated sugar to $6.50 and for California beet granulated sugar to $6.30. The combined cut represents a drop of $1.10 per hundredweight in the last three weeks, and today's prices are lower than at any time in 1924, according to officials of the California-Hawaiian Sugar Refining Co. here. Advent of abundant new crop sugar is responsible for the drop, refining officials said.

PREDICTS BETTER BUSINESS IN 1925

Philip B. Kennedy, Banker of Los Angeles, Speaks at Exchange Club

"There is a general feeling among Los Angeles bankers that we are entering upon a good business year."

Philip B. Kennedy, vice-president of the Security Trust & Savings bank, head office, told members of the Glendale Exchange club at the meeting held at the Masonic Temple today noon.

"In spite of the foot and mouth disease, shortage of rain and several other ills experienced since last spring, the year 1924 has seen a good volume of business in the Los Angeles section, with reasonable profits in most lines."

"Glendale is to be congratulated upon the continued progress shown during the past year. If national and local business conditions remain healthy this community will keep on going ahead."

"General business sentiment throughout the country is now decidedly confident. For four or five months preceding the election in November industry in the east had been slowing up. Since the election there has been an improvement in various lines. The present outlook is for conservative legislation and for an increased volume of business. Greater prosperity in the country as a whole will have a favorable effect on local activity in Southern California."

Banks Aid City
"The factors which will effect local prosperity this winter are, first, the amount of rainfall, and, second, the number of tourist visitors which will come out. The citrus industry always has a certain frost hazard but the danger of serious loss is not great. High taxes place a burden on everybody and public expenditures must be watched. These, however, are normal factors which come up every year."

Sometimes the question is asked as to whether the banks are doing all they should to support local prosperity. The Glendale branch of the Security Trust & Savings bank has now loaned in Glendale about $1,000,000 more than a local bank, with the same amount of local deposits, would normally loan. Furthermore, the new Glendale Security building, with fixtures and bank vaults, completed during the past year, represents an investment of $750,000.

At the present time no undertaking which is normally entitled to bank credit will find difficulty in obtaining a loan at the different banks in Glendale.

"Good normal business may be confidently expected for the next half year or more, and business men should plan accordingly."

Name Committeemen

President William Baker, presiding for the first time as new executive of the club, named the following as chairmen of the various standing committees for 1925: A. J. Lockwood, entertainment; R. E. Johnston, membership; Carl Christy, attendance; D. Ripley Jackson, house; R. E. Auhlmann, reception; W. R. Vanderwood, civics; H. W. Chase, publicity; George Orgibet, fraternal; George Hallett, finance; W. C. Waring, flagpole. The committee chairmen are to select their assistants and report at the next meeting.

Councilman C. E. Kimlin, announced the forum dinner planned for January 19, when the City Council will be hosts. The resignation of Smith McMullin was read. F. E. Elwood won the attendance prize donated by D. Ripley Jackson.

Librarian to Speak On Children's Books

Mrs. Alma J. Danford, Glendale librarian, is to talk on Children's Books Thursday afternoon at the meeting of Central Parent-Teacher association at the school. Richardson D. White, superintendent of schools, will also be a speaker. A tentative outline of the proposed school bond issue, Mrs. Roger L. Fitz is to sing. Members of the executive board will meet at 2 o'clock, preceding the association meeting at 3:15 o'clock.

Tuesday Club Officers In Executive Session

Officers of the Tuesday Afternoon club were in executive session the greater part of today at the clubhouse. Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, president, presided. The entire morning was taken up with routine business of club administration. Luncheon was served the board members at noon, and at 1 o'clock their meeting was resumed, continuing until after 3 o'clock.

Burbank Man Held In Raymond Market Theft

Daniel Orona of 134 Ash street, Burbank, was arraigned yesterday before Judge Frank H. Lowe of the Glendale police court, on a charge of burglarizing the Raymond market on North San Fernando road, and his preliminary hearing was set for 9 o'clock next Friday morning. Bail was fixed at $1,000.

$50,000 Loss Results In Bakery Plant Fire

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6.—Miss Rhoda Rhodes, 79, was probably fatally burned, and George H. Valentine, 50, suffered severe burns in a fire here today which destroyed a baking plant and residence with a $50,000 loss.

ELECTA HOSTESS

An all day meeting of Electa Social club will be held Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Luella Emerick, 484 West Elk street. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Ida Currie and Mrs. Blanche Berg. The regular business meeting of the club will be directed by Mrs. Clytelle Hewitt, president.

His Book More To Point Than 2 Million Gift

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—William H. Williamson, British subject and San Francisco resident, was considering today just what to do following notification that he had come into a delayed inheritance of $2,000,000 estate left him by his father in the central portion of the famous watering place of Bath.

"Oh, it doesn't interest me, you know," Williamson said. "What's a million dollars. What's money?" I can't be bothered."

However, at the insistence of friends, Williamson has decided to consider the next best thing to a million dollars. "I must write my book, though, you know," he emphasized.

Park Board Decides On Tour of Glendale

The Glendale park commission met today at the city hall and discussed plans for the coming year. In order to work out unified park, school and playground activities, it was decided to hold a joint session with the Glendale city board of education some time in the near future. The members of the park commission will make a tour of inspection of school grounds throughout the city on Friday afternoon of this week. Surveys for a road running along the west end of Patterson avenue Park are being made. Sam Warren, park superintendent, reported. Lawns will be planted in the parkways where the entrances to the park have been closed. Those who were present at the session were L. H. Wilson, chairman; Rev. C. M. Calderwood and D. M. Hollister, members of the park board; R. Ernest Tucker, superintendent of recreation, and Mr. Warren.

Christmas Bomb Victim Soon Leaves Hospital

Louis M. Torchia, Glendale attorney, who was the victim of a Christmas bomb plot, will be able to leave the hospital within the next ten days if his present rate of improvement continues. Torchia's condition is steadily getting better, according to reports from the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital. Unless unforeseen complications set in, he will be sufficiently recovered and strong enough to be removed to his Casa Verdugo home before two weeks have passed, it was stated. The maimed man's hearing is greatly improved and his eyesight, though damaged by the concussion from the exploding bomb, will be saved, Dr. H. R. Boyer, attending physician, declared.

BIRTHS

A son was born last night, Monday, December 5, 1924, at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Burt of 1455 Highland avenue. Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Hughes of 906 East Harvard street are parents of a son born at the Golden West sanitarium Sunday, January 4, 1925.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. James Bradley of 474 West California avenue Sunday, January 4, 1925, at the Golden West sanitarium.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spear of Tujunga are parents of a son, born at the Golden West sanitarium, Saturday, January 3, 1925. The baby has been named John Albert Spear.

Postpone Meeting

A special meeting of the executive board of the Doran Parent-Teacher association was held yesterday afternoon at the school. It was decided that no meeting of the association would be held this month on account of the death of the husband of Mrs. F. J. Lynn, president.

Sixth Birthday

James Flint celebrated his sixth birthday yesterday, when his parents, Dr. and Mrs. James L. Flint, of 619 North Central avenue entertained a company of his little friends with a dinner party. Decorations in the Flint home carried out a color scheme of pink and white. Dinner was served at 6 o'clock at a table prettily decorated for the occasion. Individual birthday cakes were given each guest and favors were automobiles for the boys and doll furniture for the girls. Games were played later in the evening, prizes for which were awarded to Joan Pearce, Joan Everson, Frederick and Franklin Herman. Guests at the party were Joan Pearce, Joan Everson, Mary Jane McPhail, Jean Carol, Moreen Fitz, Cynthia Truitt, Edmond Mayo, Roger Fitz, Richard McPhail, David Smith, Frederick and Franklin Herman, Richard, James and Dick Flint.

Meeting Tonight

Mrs. R. G. Patterson announces that there will be a meeting tonight of the Women's Benefit association of Maccabees. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock in the American Legion hall on East Broadway.

FARMERS ABLE TO MEET ALL PAYMENTS

Big Prices for Wheat Puts Much Needed Cash In Growers' Pockets

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The farmer started in today to celebrate his change from rags to riches first by drawing a good long breath. The breaking prices for the banner wheat crop left most agriculturists so bewildered that they could do little at first but pay their debts. These have been almost entirely cleared up in many instances, and while purchases by the farmer communities have been fairly heavy in the late months, manufacturers catering to farmers' wants believe the buying period has only started.

The farm equipment manufacturers, for example, feel that 1925 will be a splendid year for them. The national association of farm equipment manufacturers has just completed a poll of its members comprising about 200 manufacturers with 21,000 dealers in practically every farm center in the country, and as a result has issued this declaration: "Confidence has returned and a feeling of conservative optimism is felt throughout the farm equipment trade."

Poor Corn Year
Manufacturers recognize, however, that there are some spots which have not been reached by the general prosperity and where future sales will probably be small. This is due to one of the poorest corn years in history and corn means beef, mutton, hogs and milk in those sections. Iowa, for example, has a corn crop only 32 per cent matured. Indiana, Illinois and Ohio also suffered and this will affect farm equipment and other sales through restriction of buying power.

Farmers have acute need of replacing old, worn out and out of date machines in order to speed up the handling of the crop and cut down expense of raising it. Farmers, however, have gotten pretty well used to the idea that they can make the old machines do another season by using a little ingenuity, a lot of baling wire and a few new parts. Experts of a leading company assert after a survey of Iowa so complete that every farm's binder was examined, that the average life of that piece of machinery has been increased ten years over pre-war estimates.

Export Business
There is every probability that the export business of the farm equipment makers in 1925 will continue to advance by leaps and bounds. Practically every civilized country has been speeding up food production and importing American farm equipment to replace the man power lost in the war. Australia, Canada, Argentina, South Africa, Mexico, India, Egypt, France, Germany and scores of other countries are expected to buy more in the next twelve months than in the last annual period.

If the price of wheat stays up, Canada may double its prairie province wheat acreage in the next two or three years, because she has multiplied her man power by some five thousand American built tractors each year since the war. The struggle is still on over better fat production between low cost and labor in Europe, and high cost man labor in America, supplemented with labor saving machinery, but the victory is slowly turning to the American producers. As a result, sales of silos, ensilage cutters, barn equipment, cream separators and milking machines are expected to increase materially.

"The farmer will make replacements in about the same proportion as he returns to prosperity," said Finley P. Mount, head of the Advance Rumley Corporation today. "He will not buy all his requirements in 1925. Even if he had the ability and desire to do so, the machinery would not be available. But all signs point to a steady return to normal and 1925 will show a substantial return to the farm machinery business."

Thirty-two Added In Presbyterian Drive

Thirty-two new members have been secured by competing teams in the First Presbyterian Men's class membership drive, according to latest reports by William A. Horn, president of the class. The drive, which commenced a week ago, will continue until February 1. Team captains are C. T. Johnson and M. P. Harrison. They are working under the newly-installed officers who, beside Mr. Horn, president, are W. H. Barnes, vice-president; J. Mac McMillan, secretary and J. C. Jensen, treasurer.

Shriners Will Elect at Annual Meeting Jan. 9

The annual meeting and election of the Shrine club of Glendale will take place Friday night, January 9, at the Egyptian Village cafe, according to an announcement by Percy J. Hayselden, president. Dinner will be served for members and visiting Shriners at 6:30 o'clock. Officers beside Mr. Hayselden, whose terms expire shortly are E. F. Heisser, vice-president, and Charles F. Hahn, secretary-treasurer.

Hunts African Lions

MISS MARGARET THAYER, Philadelphia heiress, who moves in the highest society, is tired of dodging social "lions," so she is going to the dark interior of Africa to hunt out the king of the jungles. Her party plans an extended stay in the wilderness.

Urge Uniform Laws On Divorce And Marriage

should be so amended as to require the publication of an engagement for one year before the wedding can occur. Dr. Brooks also would not permit young men to marry until they reach 22 years of age. The limit for girls he would fix at 19 years.

To the argument that the delay between publication of the engagement and the actual performance of the wedding ceremony might result in many broken romances, answer is made that it is better for these differences to be settled before marriage rather than soon afterward. It is also argued that where a young couple is threatened with separation during the year following announcement of their engagement, due to the prospective bridegroom being ordered to some foreign post of duty or similar contingency, it would be both unfair and unwise not to permit their marriage so that the two might go away together. Such cases are exceedingly rare, it is answered, and the general good expected to be accomplished by the enforced wait between engagement and marriage would more than offset the few hardships which might be entailed.

Avoid Easy Divorce
Making marriage more difficult is about as far as the reformers care to go. They do not expect to be accomplished by the enforced wait between engagement and marriage would more than offset the few hardships which might be entailed.

The existing laws in some states are held to be both ridiculous and absurd. There is cited the case, for instance, of the wife who applied for a divorce because of extreme and unusual cruelty. When the cruelty was inquired into it was found to consist of the failure of the husband to take his wife to the movies for a period of two years.

The jumble in personal relations which the divergent laws of the various states bring about from time to time has been evidenced by the case of the woman who has just obtained a divorce, according to her own idea, from a husband who was married five years ago to his second wife, acting on a divorce obtained by himself in Paris. Thousands of divorces and second marriages are legal in one state and not in another. The problem is a big one, but there is hope here that 1925 will bring it at least a step or two nearer a solution.

Find Fingerprint Clue After Burglar's Visit

A fingerprint clue that may lead to an arrest has been found on a tin box that was among the articles ransacked by burglars who entered the home of R. W. Bingham, 1113 Western avenue, the night of January 4. Detective Sergeant F. C. Williams, fingerprint expert on the Glendale police force, has exceeded in developing prints on the box, which contained old coins stolen by the thieves.

Glendalians' Car Is Located at Newhall

A car registered to May Fraser, 512 West California avenue, is being held by the Newhall police, it is reported by Glendale police headquarters. The car was picked up by the constable at Newhall, after it had been abandoned by two young men, following a chase. The owner has been notified and the car will be returned to her.

Many Travelers Try Smuggling For Risk

And a goodly number have been unconscious smugglers who have not understood the rules of the importing game.

Goods Are Hidden
The women tagged up in hand-some furs, pearls, diamonds and silks are the most frequent offenders. The better known the name, and the more extensive the millions behind the traveler, the more likely there is to be "something hidden," according to officials. The rich folk know a "little fine" if they should be caught, won't matter. Those who have scrimped to make their trip can't afford an extra cent and so pay all they owe to avoid other bills.

Christmas, with its attendant rush for home by travelers bringing expensive gifts, always puts more gray hairs in the custom officials' heads.

Silks in mattresses, narcotics in olive oil, diamonds in soap, pearls in tooth paste and other gems in cavernous teeth—these are a few of the daily finds of the corps working under Frederick J. Kracke, appraiser of merchandise for the port of New York. The average woman brings back at least one gown. Frequently she wears it for the first time as she leaves the ship—to avoid declaring it as new. One opera singer, entering a few days ago, came trooping in with fifty-eight trunks, about two-thirds of whose new contents she had figured to declare. The average society woman carries at least twenty.

Are Heavy Laden
Smugglers, conscious or unconscious, who land with the idea that what they wear off the boat is duty free, and troop away looking like the days when hoop skirts were the rage, have to learn and pay.

Recently, a young man, filled with righteous honesty and touched up with unholly liquor, assured the inspector that he "had declared it all." Waxing confidential, he proudly boasted "and you ought to see the gift for my little girl" whereupon he offered for unofficial inspection a pearl necklace that must have been the pride of the whole oyster family.

Easy to Detect
"That isn't on the list," remarked the official.

"Why, that's to be a gift," the young man replied. Followed the reading of a certain, well known customs law, and the passage of a check from traveler to official.

They're easy to detect—the amateur smugglers, according to Mr. Kracke. Tabs are kept on all purchases made by Americans in foreign shops. And the woman, for instance, who came in with twenty new Paris gowns all bearing the labels of New York dress-makers was informed they had been bought in Paris and politely, but withal firmly, requested to hand over the difference between what she had paid and what the officials wanted.

Car Taken In Pasadena Is Found In Glendale

A car registered to Frank Krause of Anaheim was picked up yesterday by the Glendale police, in front of 133 North Brand boulevard. On investigation, it was found to have been stolen from Rose Bowl, Pasadena, on January 1. The owner has been notified and it is being held for him at a local garage.

Glendalians Called To Pueblo, Colorado

George H. Rowe, 537 West Lexington drive, and his sister, Mrs. A. R. Johnson, 342 North Jackson street, left yesterday over the Santa Fe for Pueblo, Colo. They were called away because of the illness of their father.

TROTSKY'S ENEMY VICTIM OF 'FRAME'

Moscow Finds Conspiracy Against Soviet Leader Of Opposition

RIGA, Livonia, Jan. 6.—A conspiracy against M. Zinoviev, leader of the opposition to Trotsky, has been uncovered in Moscow, dispatches from the Russian capital said today.

The military cadets, it is reported, all staunchly loyal to War Commissar Trotsky, formed the body of the conspiracy, led by officers from Leningrad. The arrest of a few of these leaders is believed to have forestalled the assassination of Zinoviev on his arrival at the Leningrad station.

Two men were arrested at the station and are said to have confessed their intention of assassinating the Soviet leader. They denounced their fellow conspirators, who included several high officials sympathetic with Trotsky.

Forgotten Stew Brings Out Glendale Firemen

A forgotten stew left simmering on a stove in the rear of J. J. Schaller's store, 251 North Brand boulevard, brought the fire department to the premises at 3 o'clock this morning. There was much smoke but on fire except a small gas flame under the charred stew-pot, reported Chief A. H. Lankford. No appreciable damage was done.

At 5:55 o'clock last night the fire department was called to the corner of Central and Garfield avenues, by a blaze in the street, on their way around the world. Placed by the street department, to warn motorists of repairs under way. The explosion was caused by an automobile knocking over the lantern, Captain G. Meyer, in charge said.

Seeks Recognition of Local Bank by British

Steps to have large banks in European capitals, particularly in London, recognize banking institutions in Glendale, so that letters of credit extended by the foreign banks may be honored locally in the case of Glendale visitors, will be taken by E. S. Golds upon his return to England.

Mr. Golds, who is a retired London contractor, with Mrs. Golds, spent the late summer, fall and early winter months in Glendale, on their way around the world. They have just embarked for Honolulu, from whence they will sail for Australia, returning to London by way of the east.

Mr. Golds states that because banks in Glendale apparently are not recognized, his credit letter was honored only at Los Angeles. He hopes by taking the matter up with the English banks to arrange financial affairs more conveniently for foreign visitors to this city in the future.

Glendale Police Nab L. A. Burglar Suspect

Lawrence Ramos, arrested this morning for stealing a bicycle on San Fernando road near Doran street, proved on interrogation by Detective Lieutenant W. J. Royle of the Glendale police department to be, by his own confession, implicated in the burglary last night of a Los Angeles laundry. The youth was turned over to the Lincoln Heights station, Los Angeles.

When picked up, Ramos had in his possession several handkerchiefs and other articles that led Lieutenant Royle to suspect he was more than a bicycle thief. He was wearing two shirts, one of which the Los Angeles police declare was stolen from the laundry. He will be held for first degree burglary, Lincoln Heights station advised.
